Co-operation

DEPARTMENTS

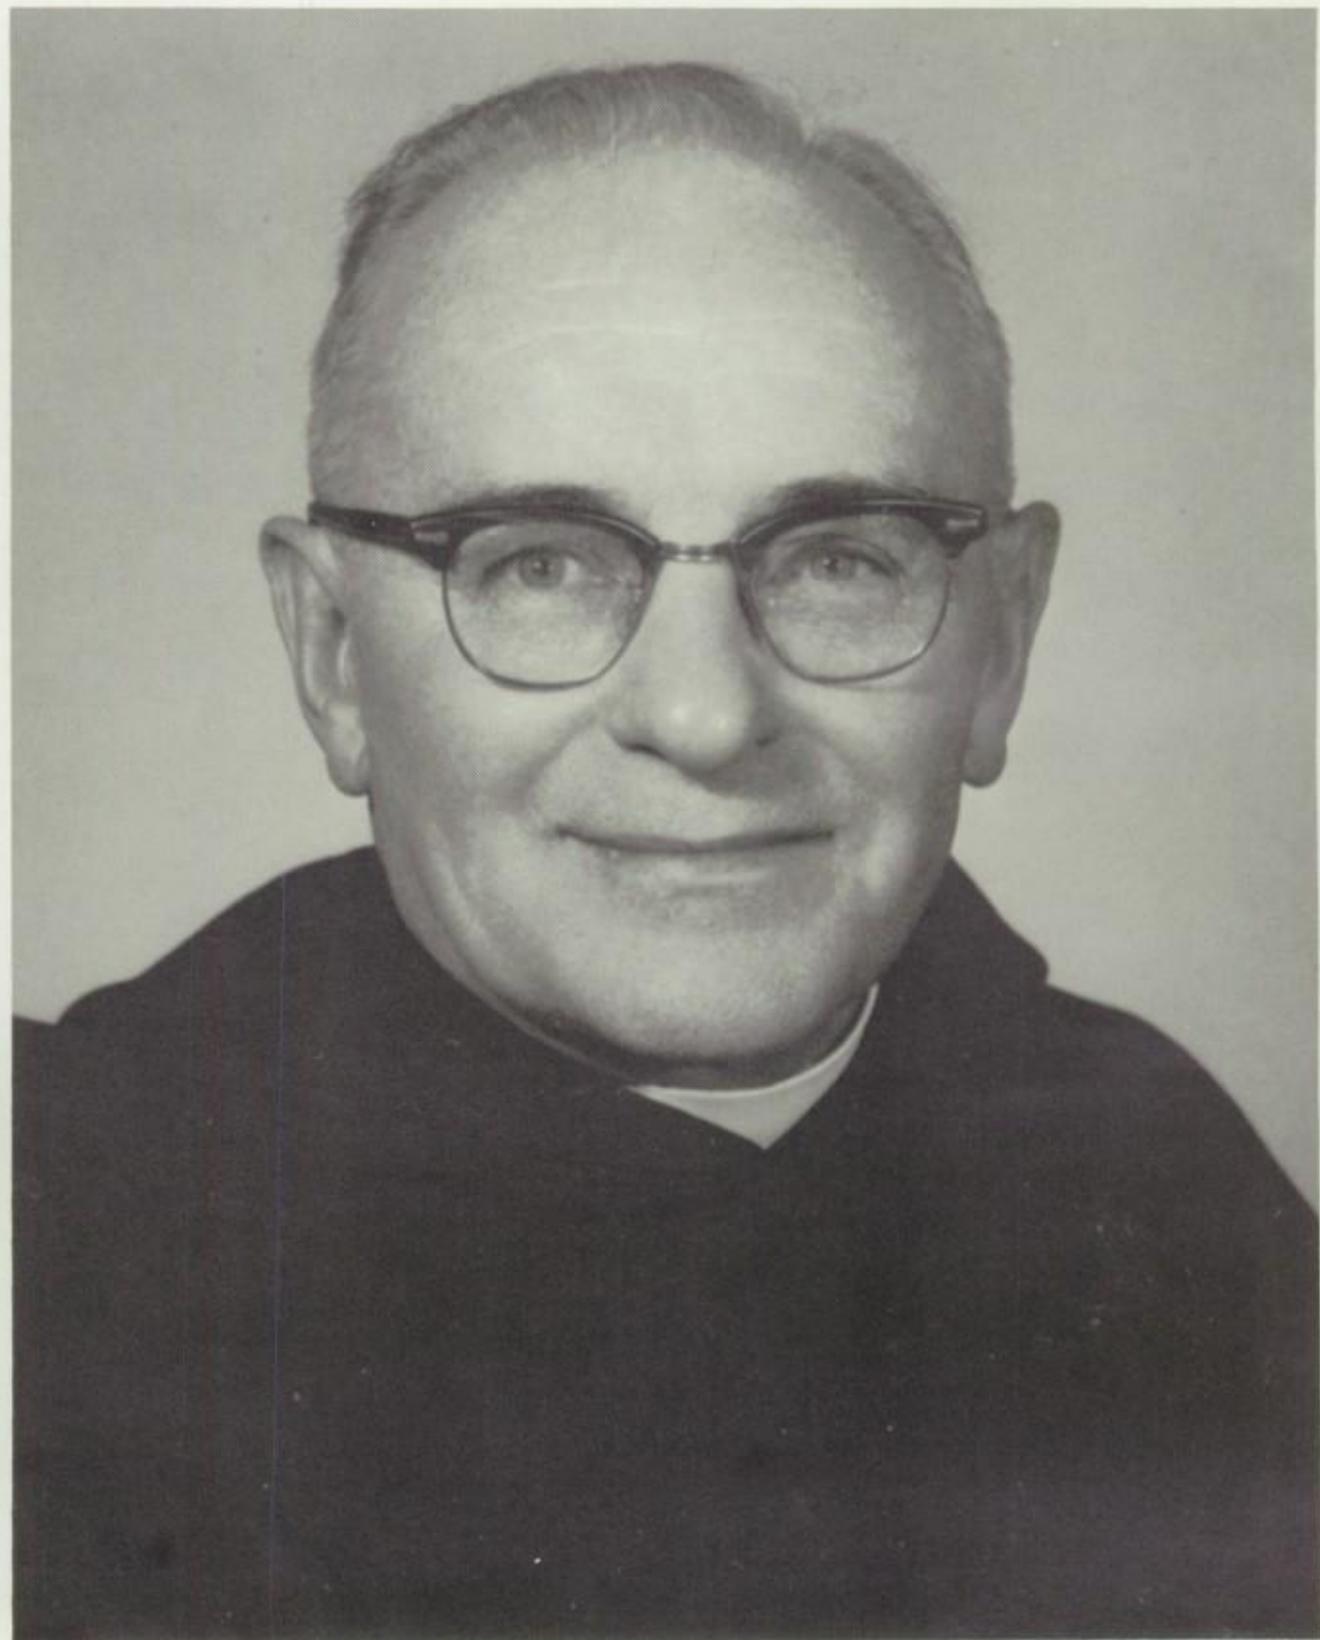

At St. Rita, the story of co-operation begins with the adults who make up the administration and faculty. From them, the students derive the inspiration and impetus to work together. Aware of this, and of the responsibility it demands, the St. Rita teacher, in close co-operation with administrators, counsellors, and fellow faculty members, strives to instill in his students unity of purpose. By doing so, he leads them to a fuller appreciation of themselves, their neighbor, and the world around them.

Prior

Fr. Lawrence prepares to celebrate 6:00 A.M. Mass in the Monastery.

Fr. Lawrence Shows Active Interest in School

Father Robert Lawrence, O.S.A., appointed Prior in 1966, conducts the community life at St. Rita Monastery. Through his activities and interest in school affairs, he shows continual participation and co-operation with the faculty and students. His thoughtfulness and consideration for the priests and brothers under his guidance exhibits his untiring charity.

The Monastery being his main concern, Father also finds time to visit the school, to participate in its activities, and to acquaint himself with the students, many of whom he taught religion, American history, and government in recent years.

Father Lawrence, ordained in 1936, came to St. Rita in 1962 after teaching at St. Thomas High School in Rockford, Illinois for twenty-five years.

Rector

Helping to make the Homecoming a success, Father Crawford speaks to a throng of enthusiastic fans.

Fr. Crawford Stresses Co-operation for School Year

Fr. Francis Crawford, O.S.A., Rector of St. Rita High School, expresses the theme for the current school year as "Co-operation between faculty, administration and student body." Fr. Crawford, now in his sixth year as rector, believes that this co-operation is the basis for an ideal social and academic atmosphere. Among his many duties around the school, Father Crawford plays an active role in the administration where his sound judgment and convictions produce many beneficial results for the school. Father's influence does not end in the administration. He can often be found counseling a student or just walking the corridors, setting an example with his bright smile and warm greeting.

Fr. Crawford discusses possible proposals and policies for an up-coming administration meeting.

Action in Administration Operates On Four Levels

When a student hears over the P.A. system that the Administration is to have a meeting, he probably wonders just what the Administration does. As the meetings are closed, he probably never knows what goes on, but know it or not, the Administration is the most helpful organization that the student has in the school.

Basically, the Administration is too general of a title. There are four areas: Departmental meetings, Deans of Departments, Curriculum Seminar, and the Administration Proper.

The Departmental meetings meet once a quarter under the chairmanship of the Dean of the respective Department. In the meetings are discussed such things as a syllabus, program changes, and new programs which can be helpful and beneficial to the student.

The Deans of Departments meet four times a year in the classrooms. They discuss suggestions to strengthen departments, evaluate department, and suggest money needed to operate individual departments. Strictly speaking, they do not originate ideas, but only propose departmental changes.

The Curriculum Seminar, composed of most of the deans of Departments and members of clerical and lay faculty meets every second Monday in the Faculty Lounge and discusses educational problems of particular concern to the school. For example, many changes in subject area, guidance and counselling have been the direct result of suggestions of the curriculum seminar. Here was developed the mosaic type of classroom scheduling, the idea of a Fine Arts course, and the revamping of the aims and purposes of studies. This is the group that continually projects new ideas for the school.

The Administration Proper, with its six Vice-Principals, is under the authority of the Principal of the school. At these meetings, which are held in the monastery twice weekly, proposals are voted on, the school calendar determined, and various school standards such as registration, orientation, homecoming, etc., are set. The culmination of all school programs and activities is under the authority of the Administration Proper.

The operation of the Administration as a whole follows a pattern. Beginning at the Departmental meeting level, changes for each separate department are proposed and recorded by the dean of the department. From there, the individual deans meet and discuss these changes, and make recommendations. These recommendations are submitted to the Curriculum Seminar where they are discussed and refined, and prepared to be voted upon. Then the recommendations proceed to the Administration for final approval.

The Administration as a whole is the organization through which almost all things are accomplished at the school. With this year's objective, as stated by Fr. Crawford, "Co-operation between teachers and administration," in mind, the Administration continues to make the school a better place for education and social development.

Fr. Robert Verstynen, Director of Studies, supervises student academic records and plans study courses.

Director of Discipline, Fr. William Thomas, prepares to check daily absentee list.

Reading announcements, Director of Activities, Fr. John Peck, keeps in close touch with school events.

Fr. LaVern Flach, Guidance Director, has the task of keeping a close watch on student scholastic progress.

Seen frequently delivering a sermon, Fr. Donald Brennan, Director of Religious Activities, keeps Christ foremost in the minds of the students.

Fr. Ralph Giovinetti, Director of Athletic Activities, coordinates all sports programs and athletic schedules.

Students of Religion Classes Experience Section Masses, Collage Methods, Group Discussions

Two years ago, under the Chairmanship of Fr. Francis McDonnell, O.S.A., the Religion Department introduced the Kerygmatic method of teaching. Through this method the student is in keeping with the modern ecclesiastical developments through analyzed scriptures and the liturgy. This course using the Christian Brothers Series book, LIVING WITH CHRIST, was extended only to the first two classes. This year the juniors use this book in their religion class as well as the seniors in their Sociology class.

In connection with this book, LIVING WITH CHRIST, the Senior informal Sociology class is a discussion orientated course. Its purpose is to direct attention toward understanding and appreciation of relevant problems of the world today.

Another approach of teaching religion was taken by some teachers. This approach is called the collage method. Through pictures which are cut from magazines, the student simulates the "old figures" of the Church in today's modern world. In his discussion he tells what they mean to him and to the Church; also how would these "figures" behave if they had lived in this present modern world.

Also this year, the chaplains undertook a new program — a section Mass. The Mass, accompanied by guitars, takes place in the chapel during the student's religion period. The number of section Masses given to a particular section is determined by the section itself.

For the first time last year, senior closed retreats were held at five different retreat houses in the Chicago area. During this period the student attended Mass, conferences, recreation, spiritual reading, and meditation. This year in addition to the retreat, a new experimental inter-school program — the religious weekend — has been started which has been open to limited number of students.

Through the period of nine weeks, fifty-four students, six per week, attended this program with students of eight other schools. Through movies and discussions this program provides opportunity for liturgical celebration and experience of Christian community living. Also, additional guidance is provided by Frs. Brennan and Corrigan, school Chaplains.

Informal discussions in religion classes sometimes take the place of lectures. For convenience of all, a discussion group is formed into a circle. John Hofer leads the discussion in Fr. Brennan's class on how Christ would live in our times as a human and social being.

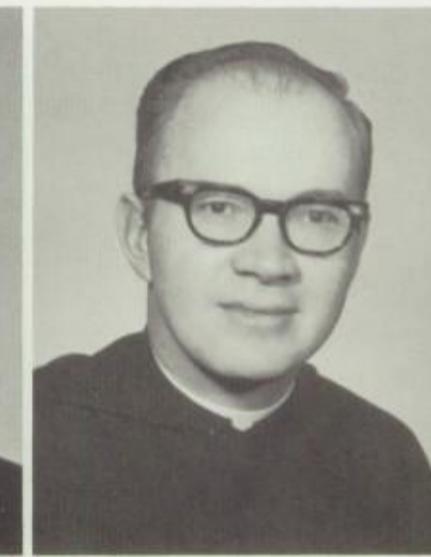

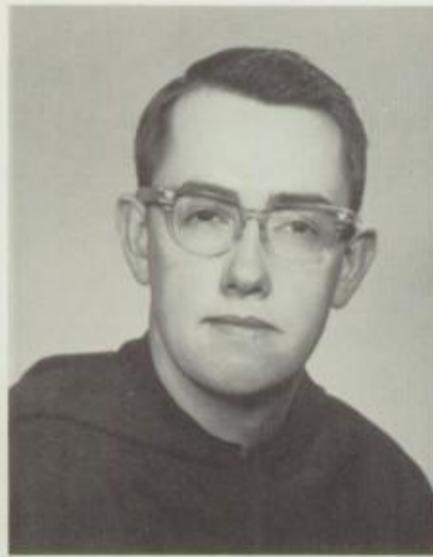

Fr. Francis McDonnell, O.S.A., who came to St. Rita for his second time in 1961 is chairman of the Religion Department and teaches Religion I and II. He holds a M.A. degree from Catholic University. His favorite hobby is golf.

As a commentator, George Firlit leads the prayers and responses at a Mass celebrated every Tuesday for his class.

To learn more about the life of Christ, Gary Kujawinski completes his project, Land Jesus Lived In, a class assignment.

New Fine Arts Program Creates Interest in Culture

Added to the curriculum this year was the fine arts program. Under the supervision of Brother Mark, O.S.A., and Mr. Terry Alelunas, this program consists of one semester of music and one semester of art.

Brother Mark, who teaches music, uses movies, slides, records, guest speakers, research assignments, and field trips to aid in the instruction. The mechanics of music as well as the composers are presented in the textbook, An Outline History of Music.

The main objective of the music class is to have the students learn the need and place of music in daily life, and to give a basic knowledge of music so that they will be more thoroughly and carefully prepared for their college years ahead.

Mr. Alelunas, as art instructor, participates only in organization and guidance. The key to the class is self-expression, rather than merely copying flower pots and fruit bowls. Drawings are based on the five senses and personal feeling and emotion.

The classroom is decorated with objects brought by the students themselves. They are used as a stimulus to creativity. The students' best work from each class is posted in front of the room as examples of what was wanted for that assignment. This is also used as a student incentive for self-betterment.

Movies and slides are shown and discussed, and guest artists and other persons connected with art will be brought in to speak from time to time. Trips to the Art Institute exhibits are required so that students can actually see art which they have studied in the classroom.

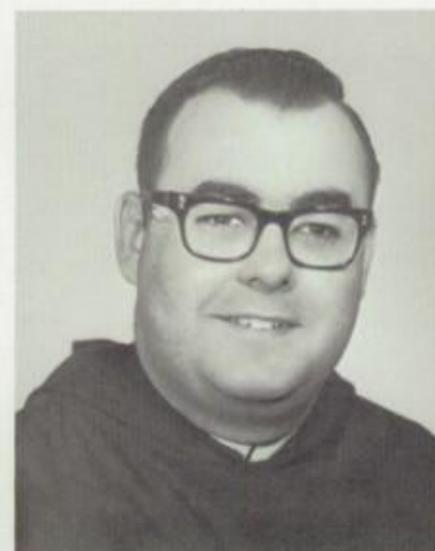

Homecoming week festivities may have a preference with Reid Baran and Don Czubaja in Brother Mark's music appreciation class.

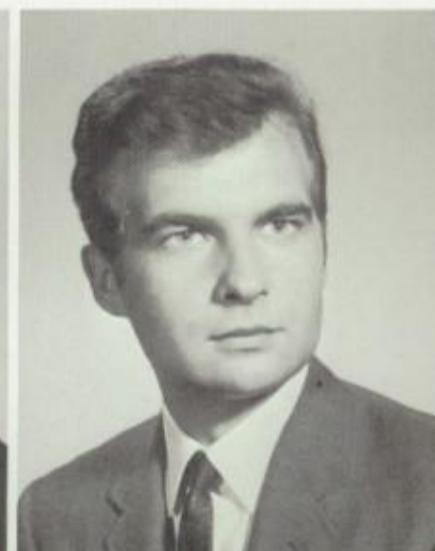

Chris Rojek and Frank Guerra learn about different instruments as they view various posters on the bulletin board.

Relaxing themselves, Tom Labus and Bob Sylvester listen to a music recording.

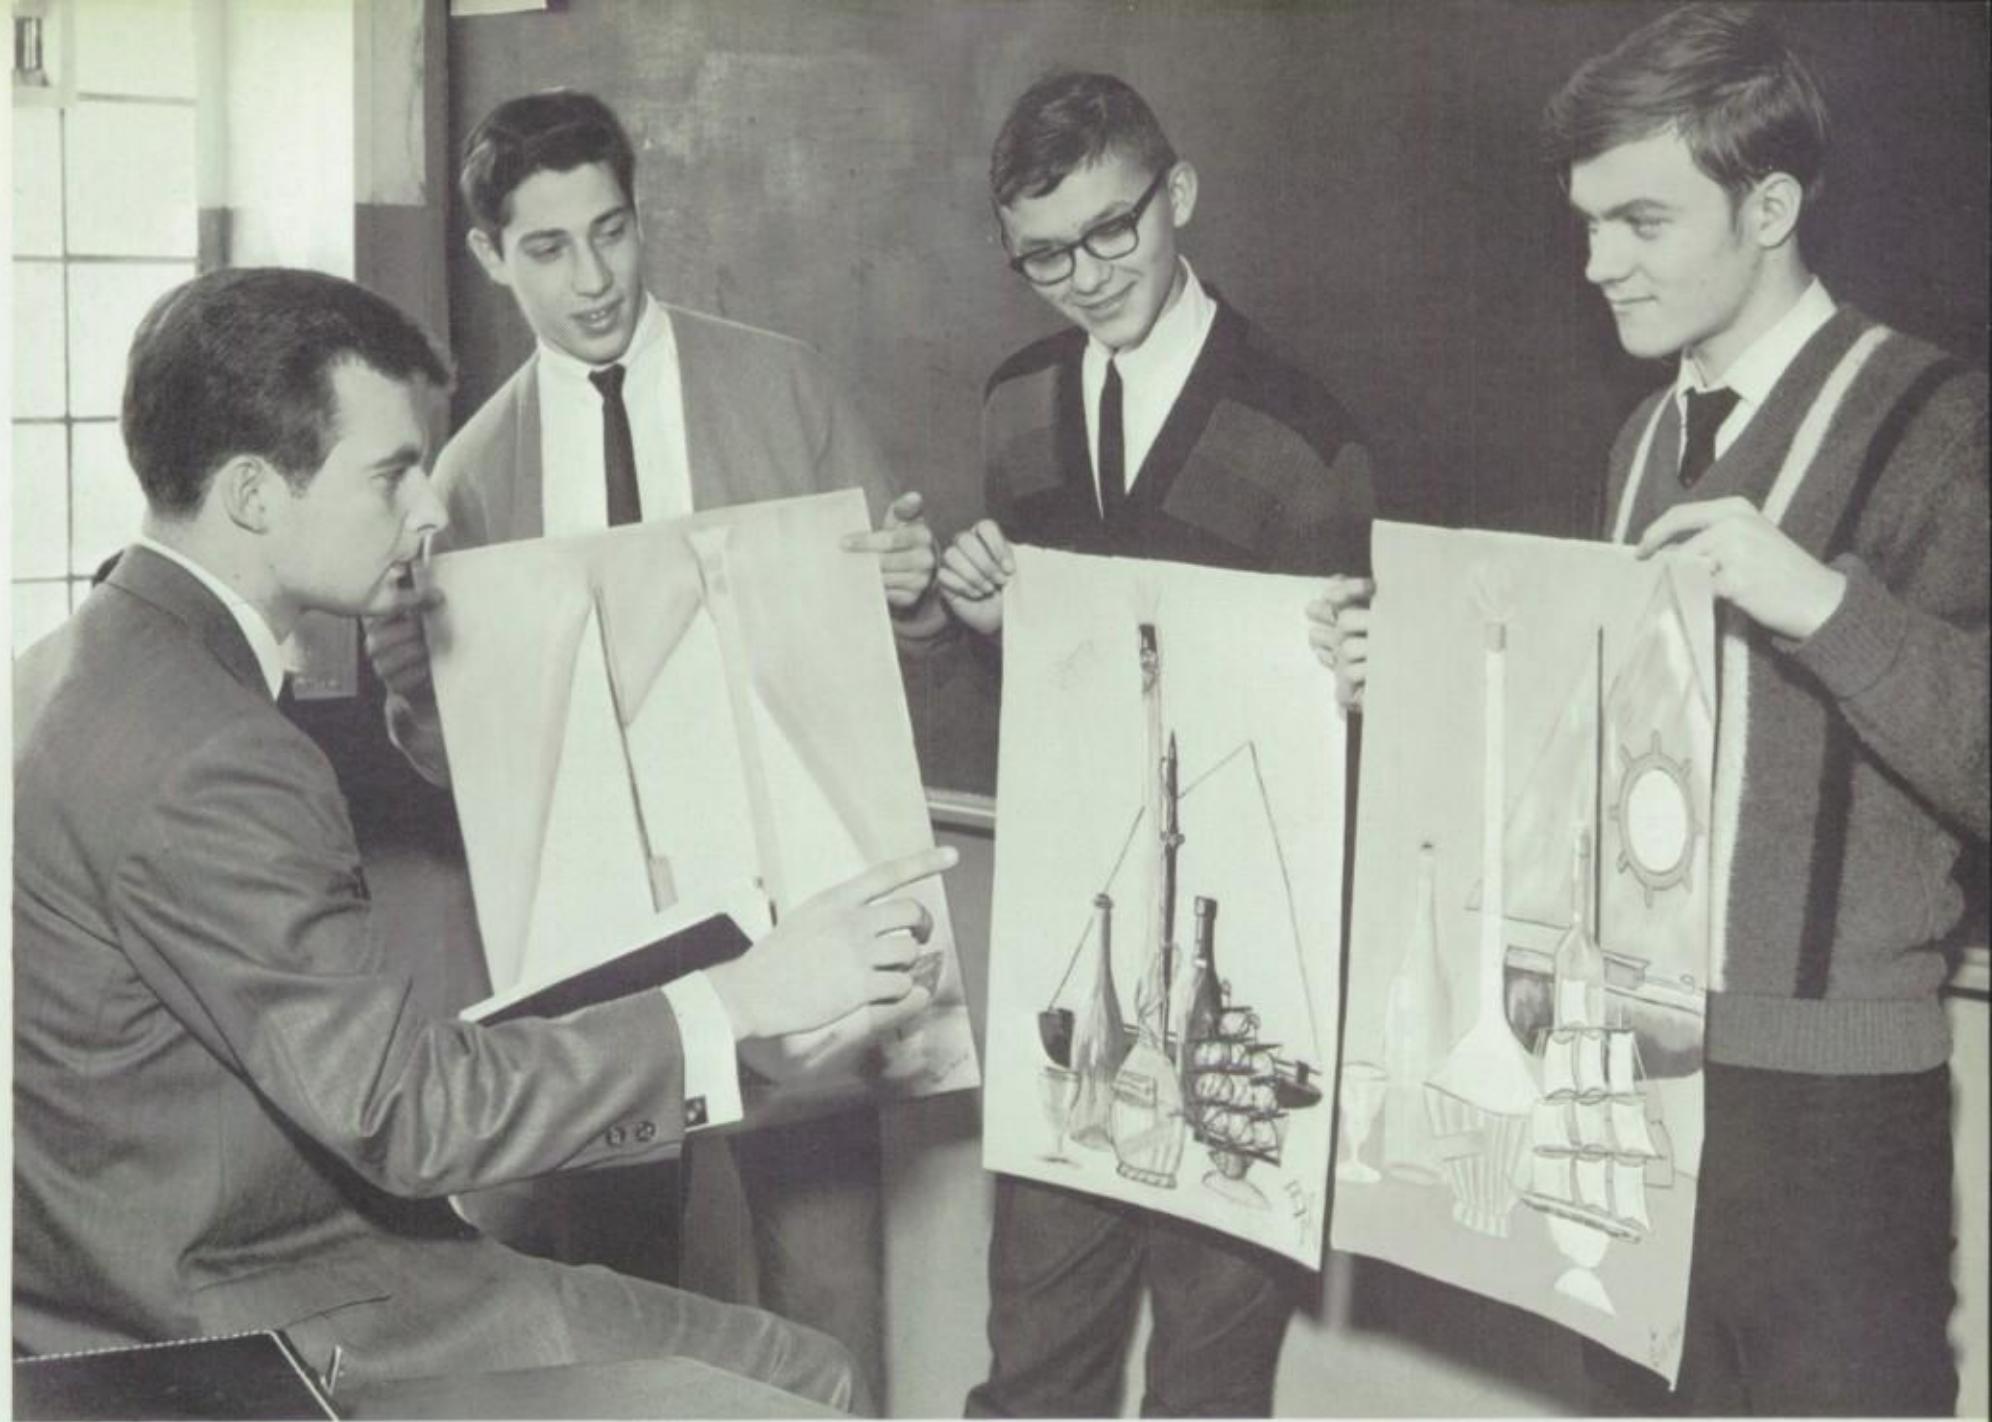

Brother Mark, O.S.A., chairman of the Fine Arts department, received his B.A. from Villanova, and came to St. Rita in 1962. He teaches Music Appreciation I, Religion I, and Spanish III. In his spare time he moderates and directs both the chorus and the soccer team.

Mr. Terrence Alelunas, a newcomer to St. Rita, teaches Art, and English I. He is presently doing graduate work at Illinois Teachers College. His special interests are music, literature, writing, and he enjoys all sports.

Mr. Louis Ricci, an alumnus of St. Rita, has been our band director since 1957. He received a B.A. degree from DePaul University. Mr. Ricci is also an instrumental instructor at Parker High School.

Mr. Terry Alelunas offers criticism to three of his students. In this way they will be able to judge their own work better, improve its details, and become better artists. The students are Pat Reimbold, Mark Nyderek, and Lou Biedak.

Working at his blackboard, Brother Mark explains the fundamentals of the grand staff to his class, and then asks questions.

Knowledge and skill in methods of sketching is learned by Terry Gockman, who makes a chalk drawing of a sail boat.

English Teachers Stress Writing Skills, Techniques

In the past, the English Department has stressed outside reading and the study of literature, both American and English. This year, with these areas still being emphasized, the Department has turned its attention to the teaching of writing skills and techniques.

Accordingly, the Department, under the direction of Mr. Donald Racky, has introduced a new textbook, "Practical Rhetoric and Expository Prose", into the Advanced Senior English program.

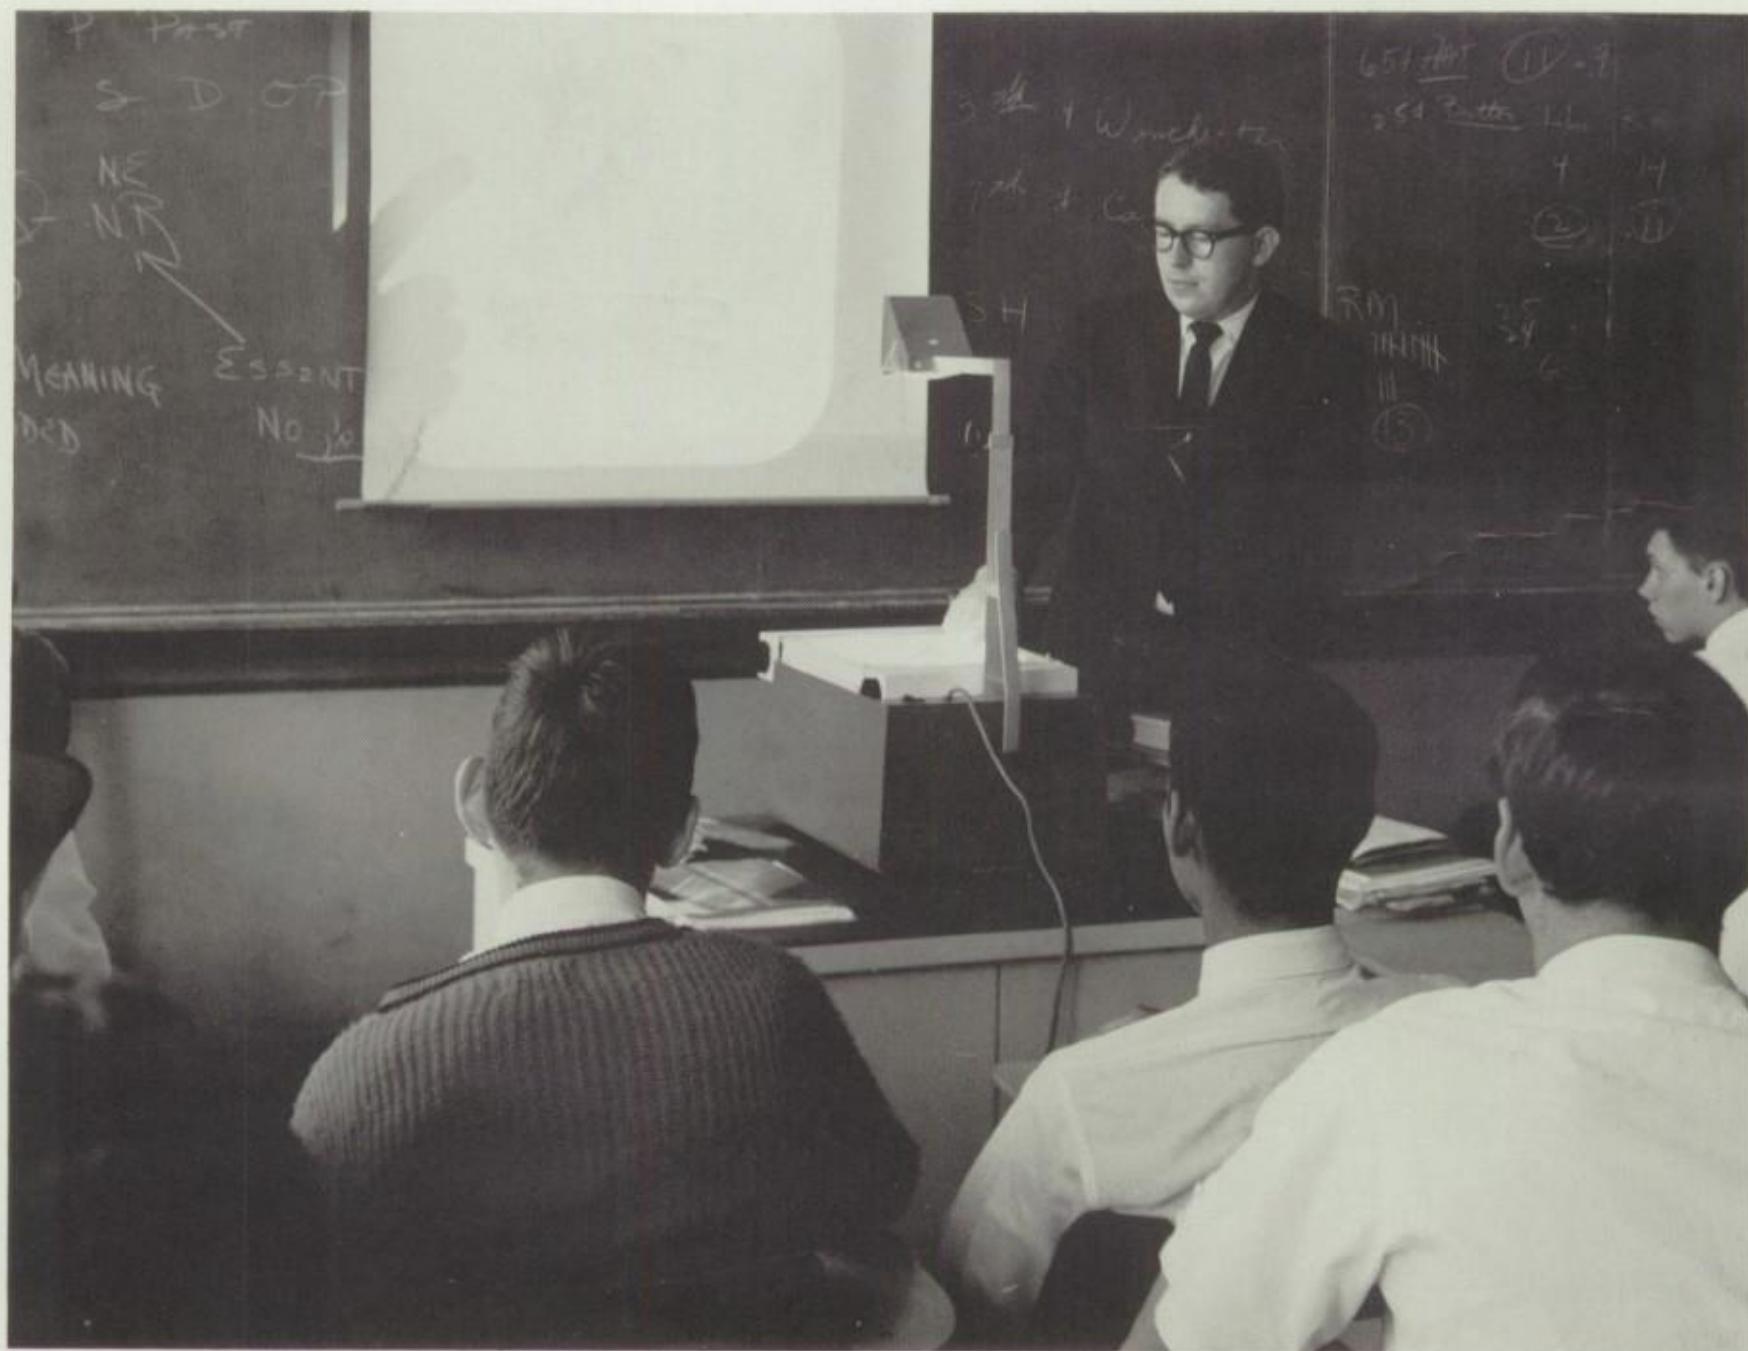

The literature program too has been improved, by the use of new sophomore and junior literature books. An advanced freshman English course was instituted, to that the four years of English could be more unified, with the students advancing in their study of English on a continuous level by level basis rather than by four unrelated years of English.

The task of both learning and teaching English has been made easier by increased use of the overhead projector.

Two tabletop models are used continuously by some teachers for neatly outlining the day's lecture. This saves the teacher the trouble hurriedly scribbling a few words on the blackboard and also allows the student to take clearer, more concise notes.

The Department has tried to promote co-operation between its members and teachers of upper grammar school English. On December 4th and 6th, a meeting was held at which the English teachers discussed the various English programs taught at the different schools. It is hopeful that the grammar school English courses be geared to the kind of course found at the high school level.

Thus, the English Department has strived to make the study of English more unified and compact throughout the various school levels, with more inter-relation between the many areas — writing, grammar, literature — that a good study of English stresses, and which the colleges demand of high school graduates.

Explaining the role of satire in everyday life, Mr. Thomas Laskey uses an overhead projector to illustrate a political cartoon taken from a daily newspaper. The portable overhead projector is a valuable aid to both the teacher and the students.

Mr. Donald Racky, a member of the faculty since 1959, holds an M.A. from Loyola and is preparing to receive his Ph. D. He heads the English Department and teaches English III and Adv. High School English. Besides being moderator of the Ritan, he enjoys camping and sports.

Mr. Edmund Brongiel, a member of the English Department, came to St. Rita in 1966. He teaches English II and holds an A.B. from Loyola University. In his spare time he enjoys reading.

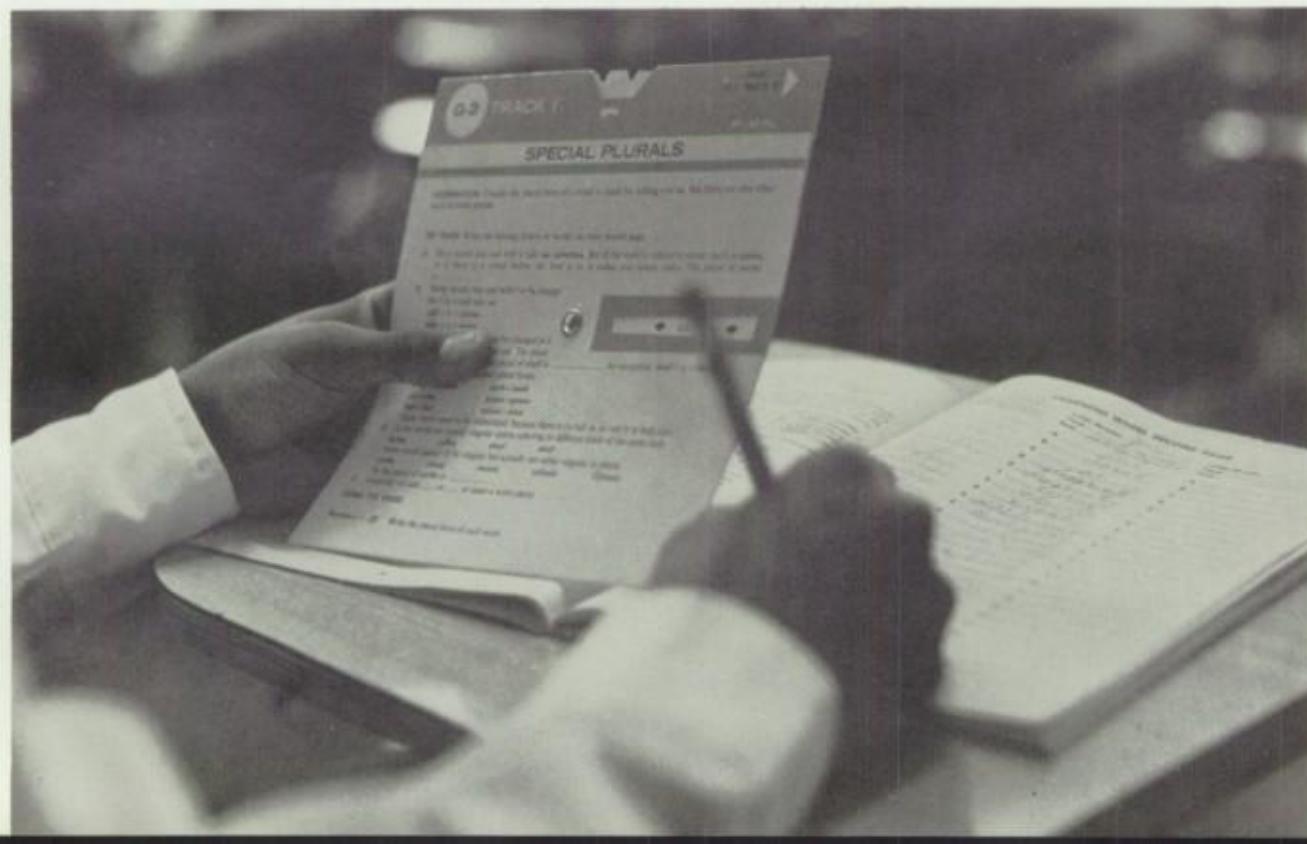

Mr. Titus Bukus, a member of the English Department, holds a B.S. from Illinois Teachers College. He came to St. Rita in 1966. His hobbies include sports.

Mr. John Hartl is a newcomer to St. Rita. He teaches English III and coaches the swimming team. From Chicago State College, Mr. Hartl holds a B.S. in Education. In his spare time he enjoys creative writing, youth work, and sports.

Mr. Donald Racky seems to have discovered some amusing irony in Tom Dorcak's first attempt at writing good satire.

Using a moveable chart, named "Special Plurals", Melesio Venegas learns to spell new words in his summer school remedial reading course.

Mr. Ronald Nowak, Remedial Summer school teacher, shows puzzled Melesio Venegas how a spelling aid chart operates.

As part of a reading assignment for the class, Ronald Zarach hands Larry Rybka the book, "The Status Seekers".

Mr. Raymond Konrath, a member of our faculty since 1964, is the coach of our track team and assistant coach of the basketball team. He teaches German I and II and English I, and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree which he received from Quincy College.

Mr. Thomas Laskey who came to St. Rita in 1966 received a B.S. degree in Business Administration. He teaches English I and IV and is working toward a M.A. in Guidance and Counseling at DePaul U. His interests lie in music, dancing, athletics and the theatre.

While his classmates are still wondering what is the meaning behind the title, James Ryan has already engaged himself in reading.

Mr. Theodore Melant is in his first year at Saint Rita and is a member of the English department, teaching English I and IV. He received a B.S. degree from Loyola University. His special interests are in radio, television, film, and all sports.

Mr. Thomas Sheehan, in his first year at St. Rita, belongs to the English and Social Studies departments. Holding a B.S. degree from Loyola, he teaches World History and English III. Sports are his main interest.

Mr. George Smith, a new-comer to St. Rita, teaches English II. From Loyola University, he has a B.S. in Sociology and minors in English and History. He is interested in sports and travel.

Social Studies Department Offers Advanced Placement, Adopts New Textbooks, Forms Club

For the first time, several seniors studying history have taken the Advanced Placement Examination, in an attempt to receive credit for freshman college history. This goal of the Social Studies Department has been achieved by giving the students a chance to understand better the actions and ideas of the men who made history and the situations which caused history to be made.

Under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Bamberger, Chairman of the Department, Social Studies has been greatly improved for the benefit of the student. Two new textbooks have been introduced: "Our Nation from its Creation," by Nathaniel Platt and Muriel Jean Drummond, and "Conflicting Interpretations of the American Past," by Sidney Fine and Gerald Brown. The latter, a supplement to the regular textbook, for the Senior Honors Section, is a book of conflicting interpretations of American history by different historians, which helps the students in their regular study of history. Movies, prominent guest speakers, film strips, tran-sparancies and records, such as William Jennings Bryan's "Cross of Gold" election speech of 1896, are various educational devices used by the teachers to stimulate interest among their students.

The two top senior sections are taking Advanced U.S. History, a Social Studies course designed for the participation of the students, both by open-end and directed class discussions. Through critical reading and analysis, and by their own interpretations of primary sources of famous historical writings, these seniors become more interested in their subject and better prepared for history in college.

To add to the education of the students, the Social Studies Department sponsors Law Day, the annual Senior Trip, and the newly formed History Club. Besides this, Mr. Bamberger is interested in obtaining a National Developmental Educational Act grant from the federal government for the teaching of college history at the high school level, thus encouraging more students to become history majors.

Learning the qualities of the various presidential candidates, John Berger and John Antonioli watch with interest as Bill Allard discusses the candidates from the Presidential Election of 1844.

Studying a map of Currency Systems used throughout the world, Greg Ohner learns more about the deflation of the English Pound in the World Problems Course. Greg has to decide on a topic for a composition which will be submitted to the class.

Mr. Joseph Bamberger came here in 1960 and teaches U.S. History and World Problems. He holds an M.A. from DePaul University and is Chairman of the Social Studies Department and Moderator of the Rita A Go-Go Club. His principal interests are camping and reading.

Mr. Eugene Farrell, in his first year at St. Rita, received a B.A. degree from Notre Dame. Belonging to the Social Studies Department, he teaches civics and business law. His main interest lies in all active sports.

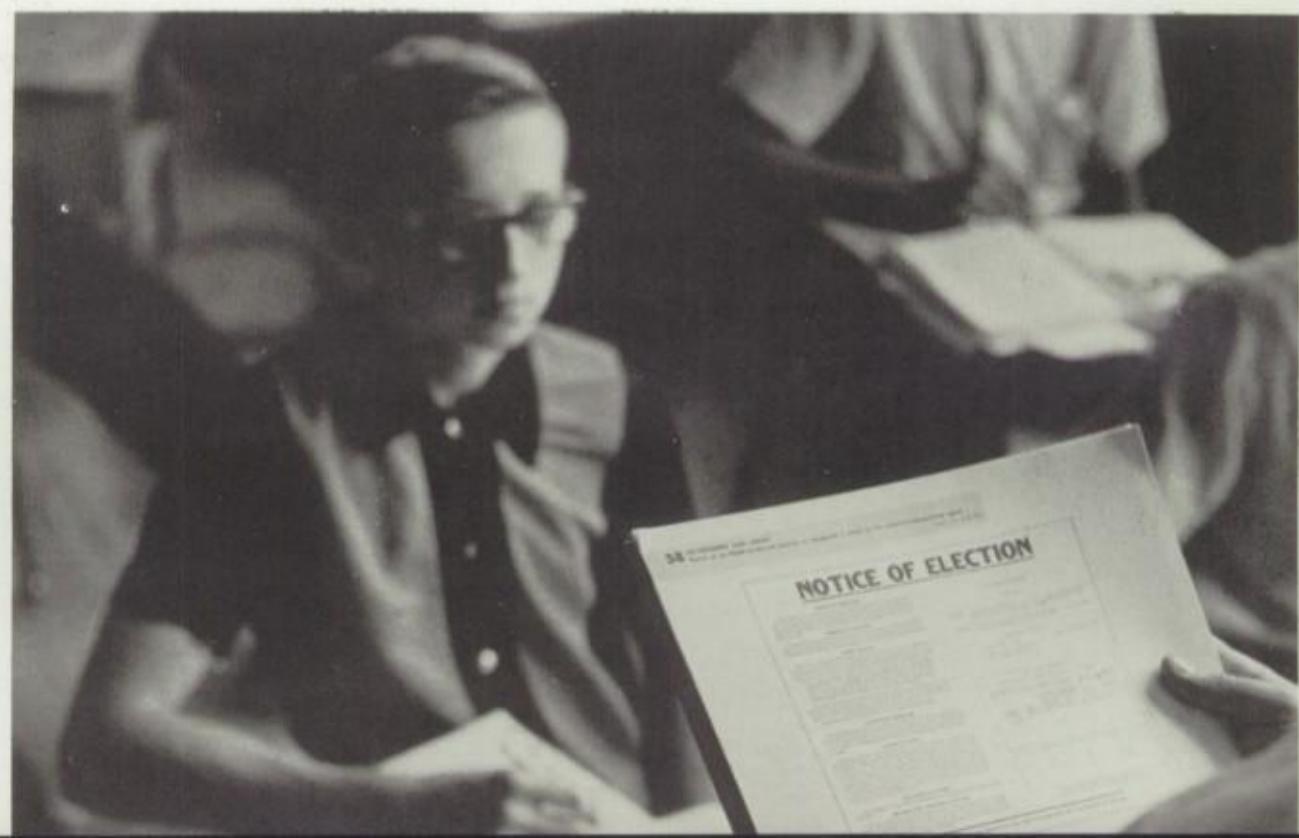

Fr. John Fitzgerald, O.S.A., a member of our faculty since 1942, belongs to the Social Studies and Language Departments. He teaches U.S. History and French I and holds a Master's degree from Loyola University. His special interests are sailing and flying.

Fr. Anthony Hogan, O.S.A., who came to St. Rita in 1966, belongs to our Social Studies Department. He received a M.A. from Villanova University and now teaches Religion I and World History. He is the Moderator of the History Club.

In a summer school Civics course, Mr. Ado Rugai explains to Richard Glanc the different election procedures for voting in Illinois.

Mr. Robert Kopecky teaches World History, and is the new head basketball coach and director of the intramural program. He holds a Master degree from DePaul University and his special hobby is golf.

Mr. Vincent Kulys, who came to St. Rita last year, teaches World Geography and English I. He holds a B.S. degree in Geography which he received from Chicago State College. His hobbies are chess and tennis.

Mr. Ronald Nowak, in his fourth year at St. Rita, teaches World History, Civics, Developmental Reading, and Religion I. He is the assistant basketball coach and he holds a B.S. in Humanities from Loyola University. In his spare time, he enjoys folk music and reading.

Mr. Ado Leo Rugai, here since 1966, is a member of the Social Studies Department and teaches civics and Contemporary U.S. History. He received a B.S. degree from Loyola. Coach of our Frosh-Soph Baseball team, Mr. Rugai also enjoys reading and classical music.

Mr. William Smith, who came to St. Rita in 1964, has a B.A. in Political Science from Villanova. He teaches U.S. History and is a Driver Education Instructor. Currently working to complete his Master's degree at De Paul, Mr. Smith is also an avid sports fan.

Mr. Dennis Szot belongs to the social Studies Department and teaches sophomore civics. Holding a B.A. from Notre Dame University, he came here in 1964. He is presently the Athletic Director and assistant football coach. His chief interests lie in athletics.

Outside readings, such as the book, The American Presidency, are required in the senior U.S. History course. With his busy schedule Bill Allard is wondering when he will find time to read it.

Determined to pass his quarter test, Ronald Franzen studies the geographical and topographical features of the South American countries.

Data Processing Offers Ability Placement to All

Through its modern system and the work of its directors, Fr. Casimir Pazera O.S.A., Fr. Edward Novak O.S.A., and Bro. Joseph O.S.A., the data processing department has continued to expand its service to the school. This year students have been individually scheduled, allowing each student to take various combinations of subjects and giving each a chance to meet more people in class. Furthermore, by ability placement, the student is given a chance to compete with students of his own ability in every subject.

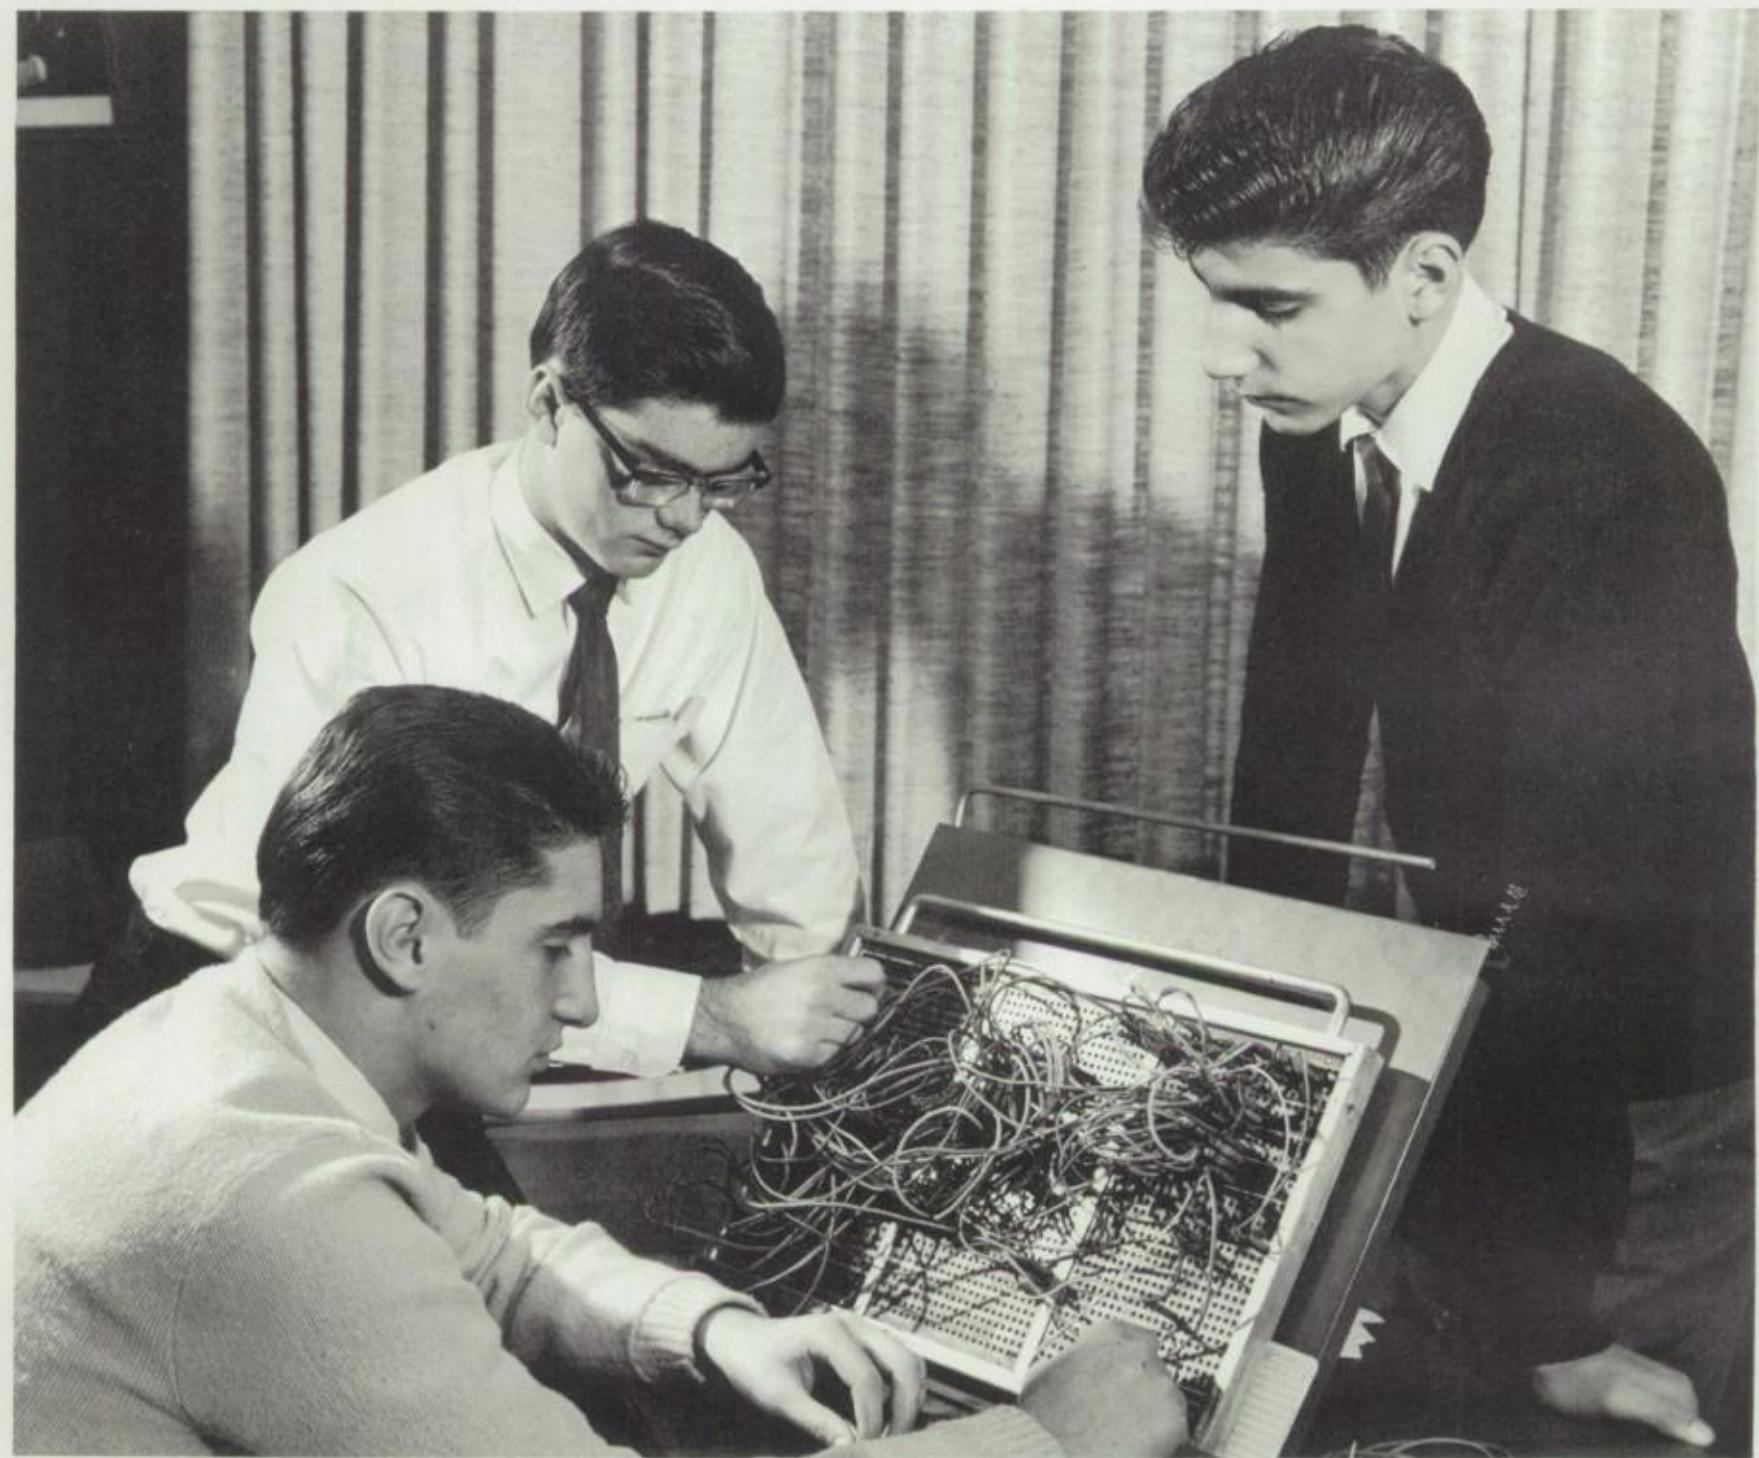

Beside serving as an integral part of the administration, Data Processing is also a subject in the school curriculum. The course is taught by Fr. Edward Novak O.S.A. All students wishing to take the course are required to submit themselves to an aptitude test published by I.B.M. This test measures the ability of the students to succeed in the field.

The course is designed to provide a basic knowledge of the field, which knowledge gives students considering continuation in the field the ability to make a more enlightened choice of a future. Knowledge obtained in the course also proves quite useful for those students entering college after graduation, especially those students majoring in a math or science oriented field.

In the course, the students are instructed in the function and operation of such I.B.M. machines as the keypunch sorter, reproducer, collator, and accounting machine. An introduction into the theory and programming of computers is also presented.

The functions of some of the center's machines are: keypunch, punching information into patterns of holes in a card; sorter, reading the holes in the cards and arranging them according to the information; collator, merging and selecting pre-arranged deck of cards; and accounting machine, reading the punch in the cards and putting pre-selected information on the sheet.

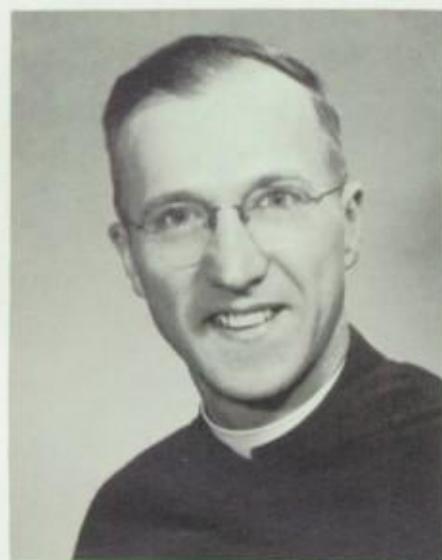

This complicated control panel is used in the school accounting machine. As Matthew Brady, Michael Curran, and Michael Agnello wire the panel they proceed slowly, realizing that one misplaced wire will produce faulty information.

Teamwork! That's what's needed for John Slavicek, James Howard, and Ray Thompson to print a report on the I.B.M. accounting machine.

Fr. Casimir Pazera, O.S.A., who teaches electronics, came to St. Rita in 1961. Holding a B.A. from Villanova, he is the chairman of the Technical Department. He is also the Data Center Manager and moderator of the Radio Club. His interests lie in electronics and amateur radio.

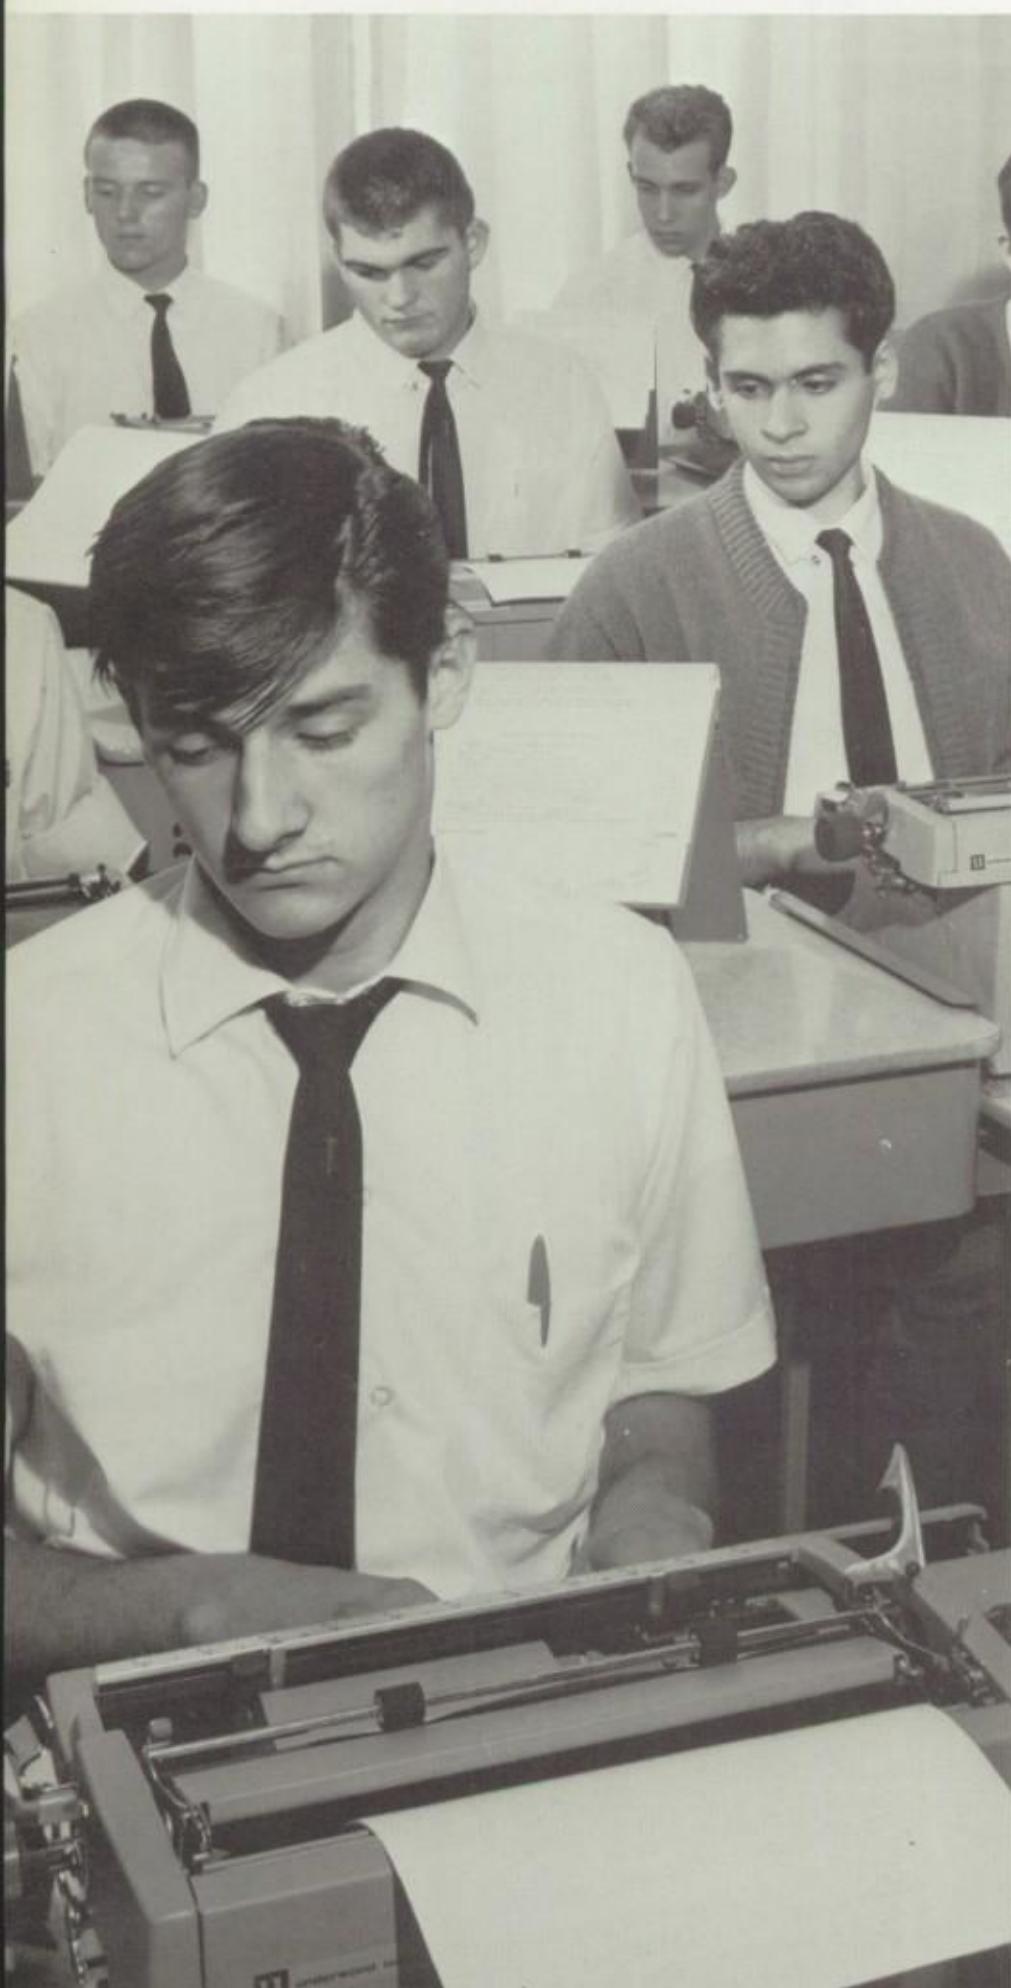

Fr. Edward Novak, in his fifth year at St. Rita, teaches U.S. History and Data Processing. He holds an M.A. in both History and Religious Education. He is interested in sports and all school activities.

After choosing the proper cards Timothy Woods and John Dunneback operate the I.B.M. collator.

Continual Expansion Marks Business Department

Bogdan Pawlak works toward speed and accuracy, while behind him, his classmates, Dan Evans, Phil Domagalski, Joe Podgorski, and John Catezone reach for the same goals.

To meet the ever growing competition in today's business world, St. Rita has greatly expanded its business programs. Additional classes in market sales, and business law and education have been added. In order to deal with this great increase, Mr. Eugene Farrell is teaching business law. New calculators, a new electric typewriter, and new textbooks in typing, business math, and economics are now in use. This year's objective according to Mr. August Jeffrey, the head of the Business Department, is "a better business education program so as to be compatible with the demands now made by the various colleges and by industry."

After careful consideration, Mr. Jeffrey explains the goals of the Business Department to his class in business law and economics.

Mr. August Jeffrey came to St. Rita in 1952. He holds an M.S.I.R. from Loyola and teaches law, economics, typing and accounting. He is Dean of the Business Department. Mr. Jeffrey supervises the lunch room and conducts a morning typing class.

Mr. James Passarelli teaches Accounting I, Sales and Marketing, and business mathematics. He became a member of our faculty in 1963 after having received an M.I.S.R. degree from Loyola University. He is an accountant in private practice.

At the beginning of the year Mr. Styczynski stresses that hard work is necessary for physical fitness, and he explains his system to test each student at the end of every semester. Frequently a program of exercises is recommended at home.

New Coach Strengthens Physical Education Program

Sounds of cheering and clapping pierce the atmosphere of the gym as students complete each of their warm-up exercises, under the watchful eyes of Mr. William Styczynski, the new football coach, and Mr. Robert Kopecky, the basketball coach. As the new head of the Physical Education Program, Mr. Styczynski has introduced a system to test the development of each student; at the end of each semester a three-part test consisting of push-ups, sit-ups, and sprints is given. To pass this test a student must pass each part.

Gym classes work for over-all conditioning. After fifteen minutes of calisthenics, students participate in various sports: touch football during fall, basketball during winter, and softball during spring. Since there is limited opportunity for classes to meet, a program of home exercises is encouraged to fully develop each student.

Mr. William Styczynski, returning to St. Rita after six years, is the Head Football Coach. He received his M.Ed. from De Paul, and is currently the Chairman of the Physical Education Department. He is also a member of the American Football Coaches Association.

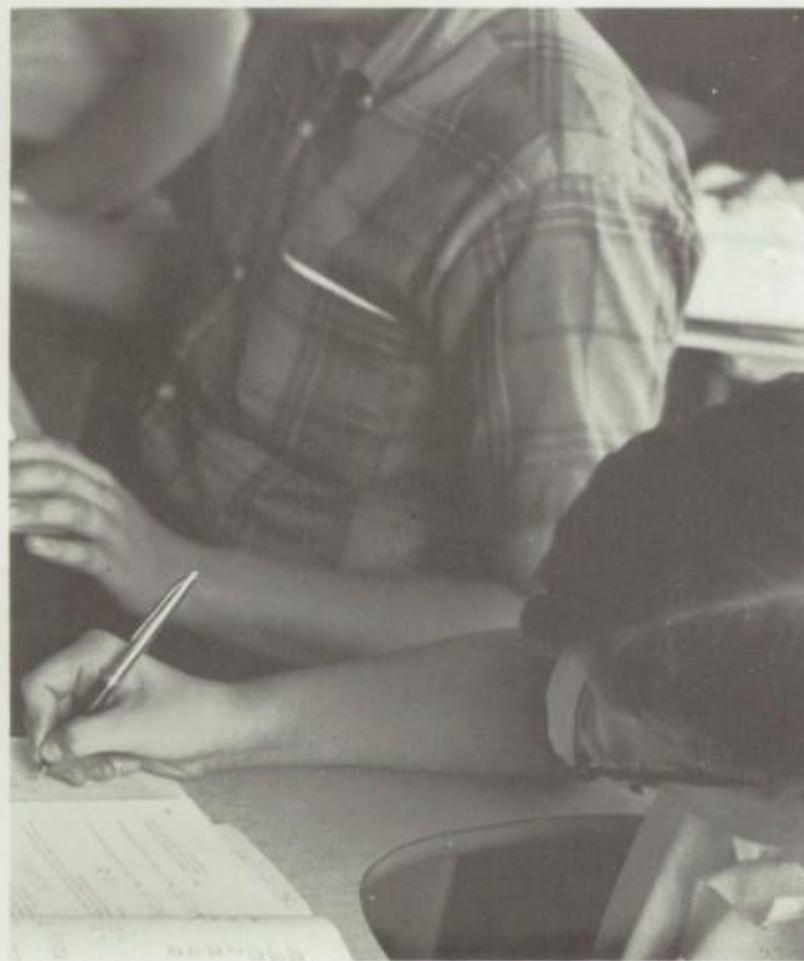

Joe Podgorski releases the ball while Bruce Miles attempts to block Ross Staton in a contest between two sections during an afternoon gym class.

Different Presentations Aid In Learning Math

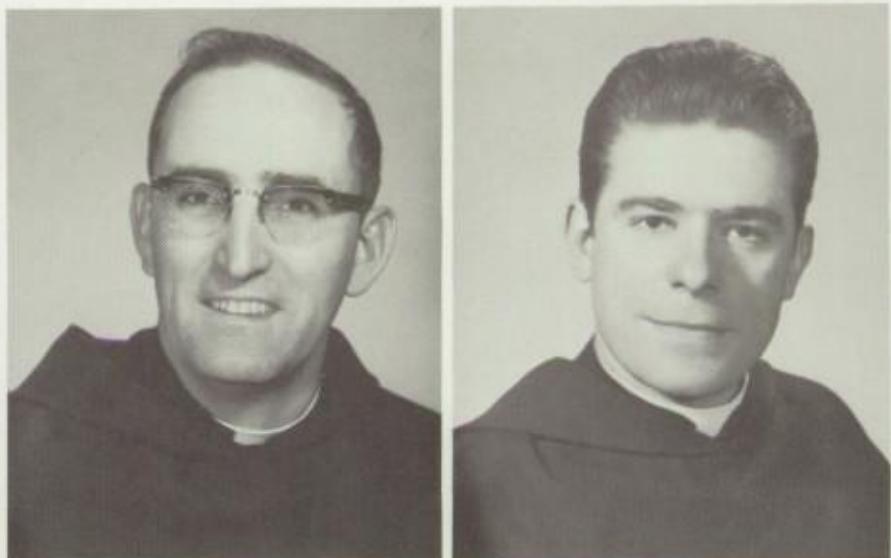

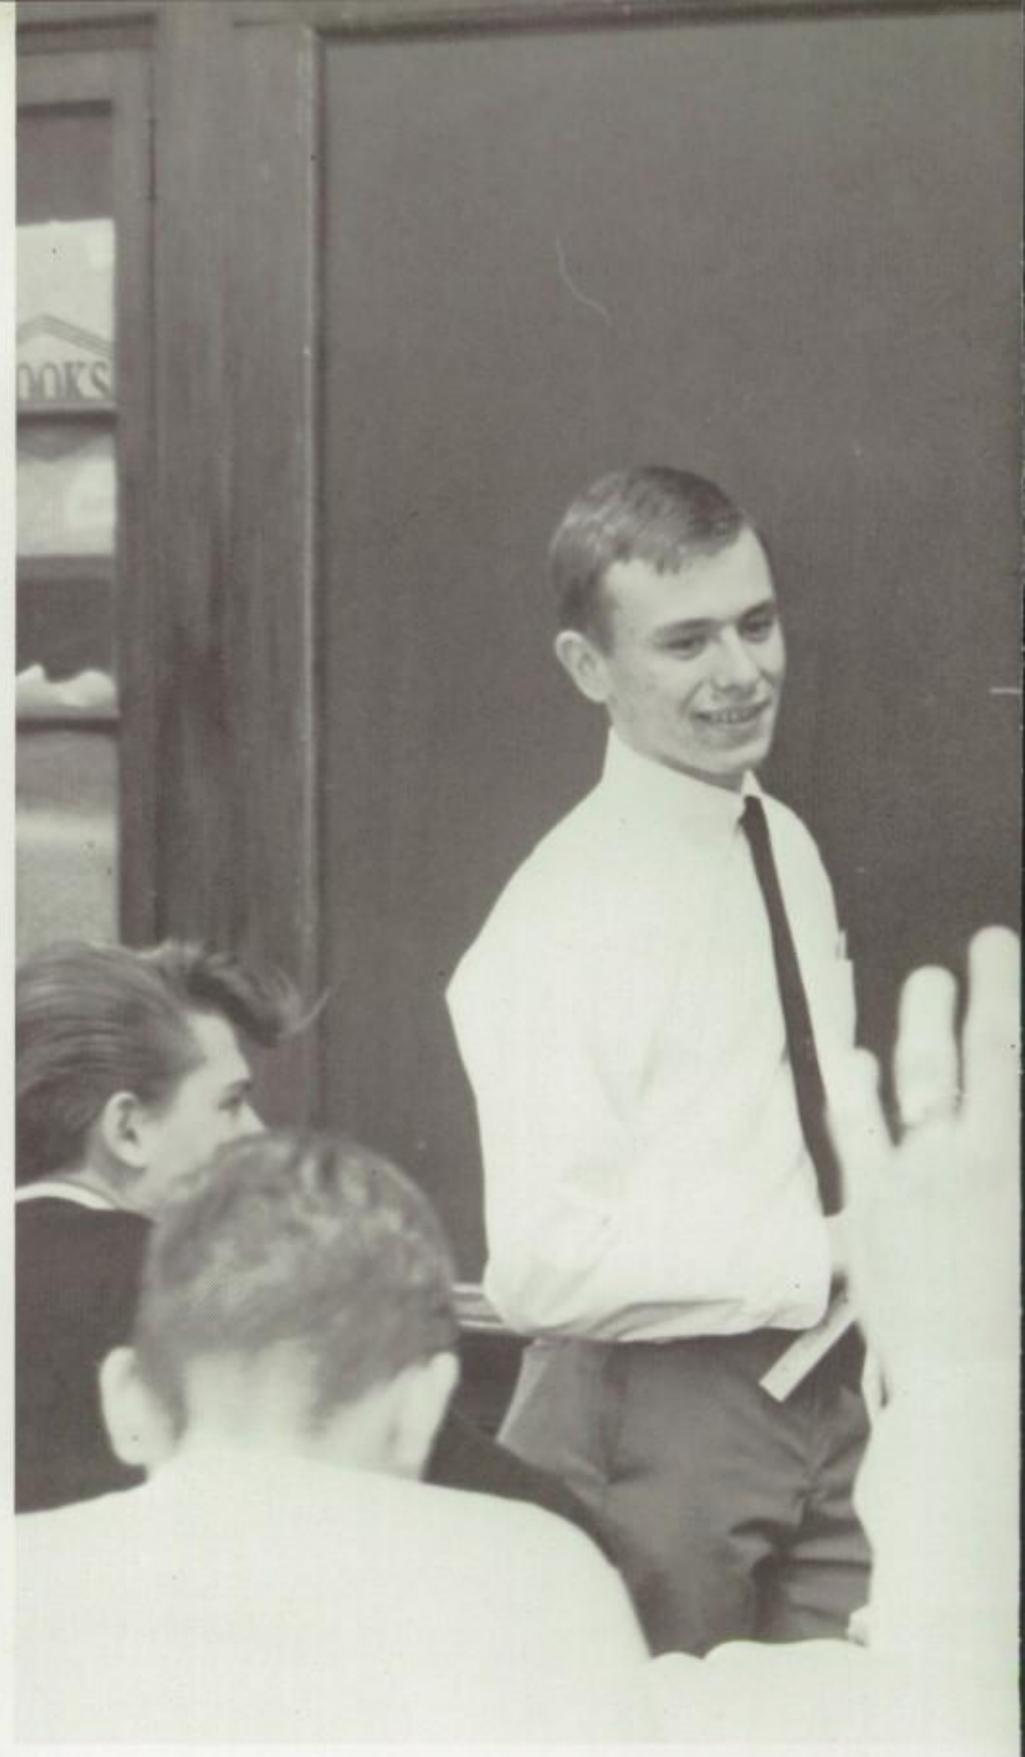

Because of the abstract nature of mathematics, an effective method of presentation is essential to any good math course. With this in mind, the Mathematics department, under the chairmanship of Fr. Edward Gorra, O.S.A., has developed various means of presentation to suit both the material and the student involved.

In the two freshman algebra courses, as well as in sophomore geometry, the teacher begins by explaining the concept until the class achieves a basic understanding. A number of problems are then assigned for homework. Next day, various students are required to copy the problems onto the blackboard and explain each step in solving. The teacher then points out any errors and, if necessary, rehashes the concept until it is firmly grounded.

A more sophisticated presentation technique is used in third-year advanced algebra and senior math analysis. Here, the teacher starts class with a formal lecture, which the students respond to by taking notes and asking questions. After the lecture, several example problems are worked out and carefully explained on the blackboard. The teacher then recommends a set of problems for the students to practice at home. Next day, the students pick out the most troublesome questions, which the teacher then explains and solves on the board. This process is repeated until the students have reached a solid understanding of the idea presented.

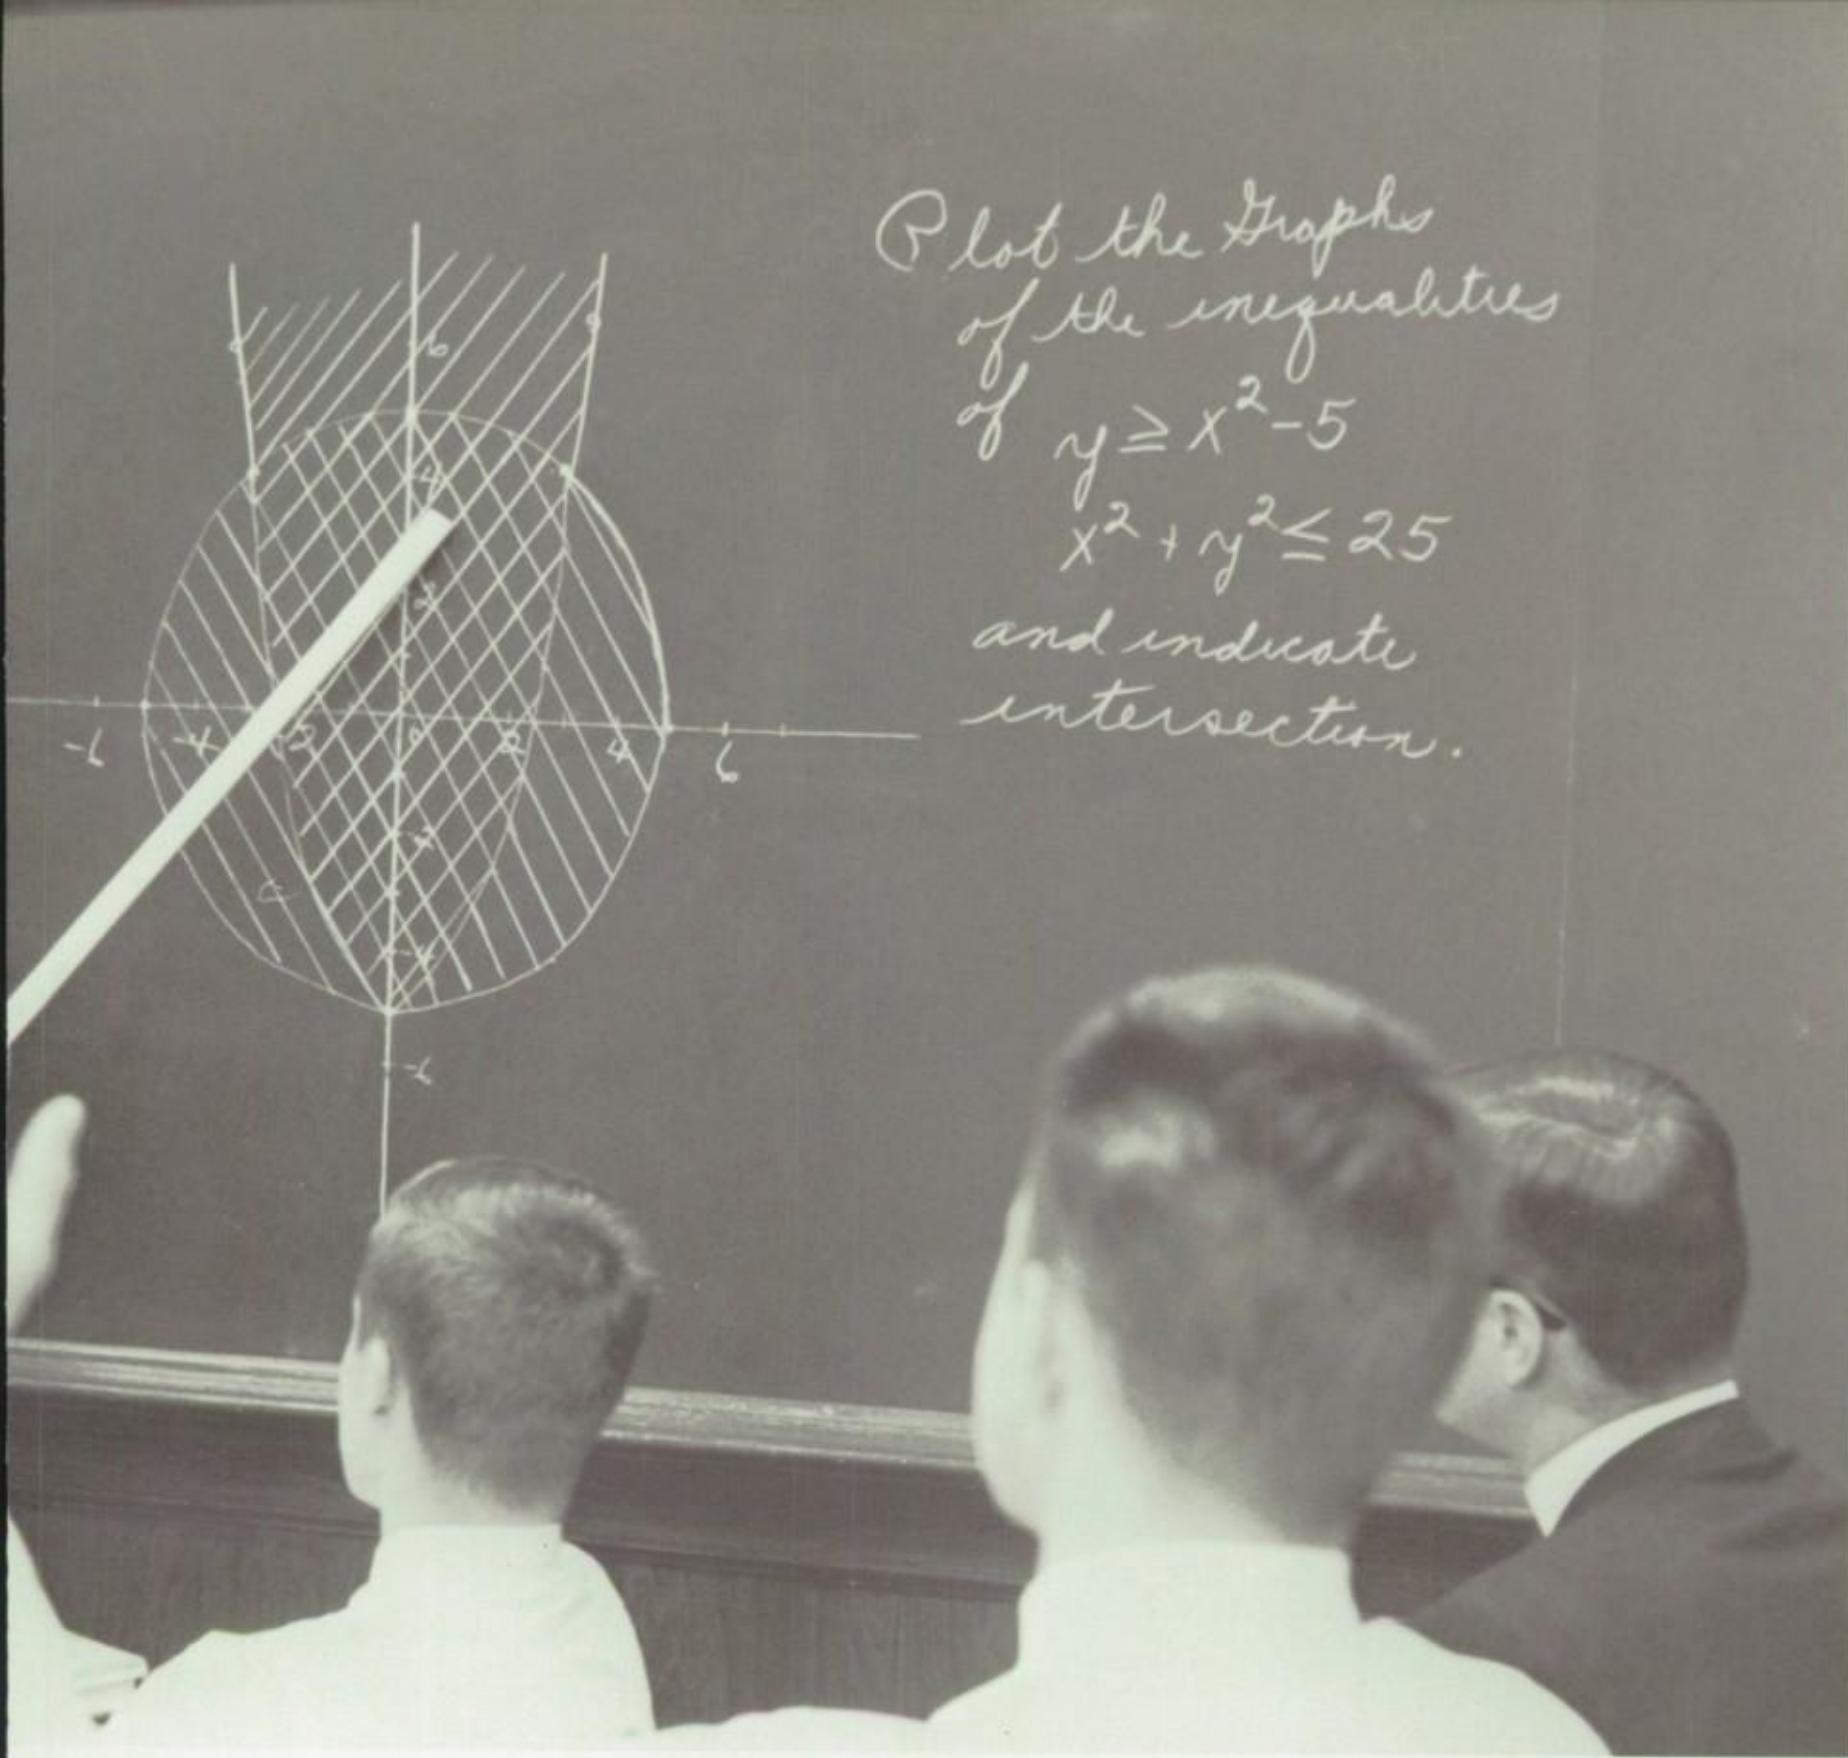

Summer School student Tom Murphy applies himself to multiplication and division of negative variables.

Fr. Edward Gorra, O.S.A., is the Chairman of the Mathematics Department and teaches Algebra I and II and Mathematical Analysis. He has received a M.S. degree from the Catholic University of America. He is especially interested in golf.

Fr. Robert Chrupka, O.S.A., is teaching in his second year at St. Rita. He holds a M.A. from the Augustinian College in Washington D.C. and is currently teaching Geometry II and Sociology. He enjoys sports and varieties of literature, music and movies.

Mr. Desmond Coleman is in his 40th year at St. Rita. He is Dean of the Lay Faculty and is an administrative assistant. Mr. Coleman holds a Masters degree from De Paul University. He has also received a Frater Ordines Award. He teaches Algebra I.

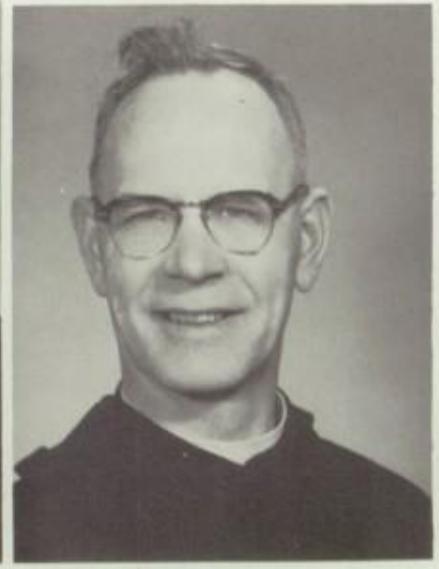

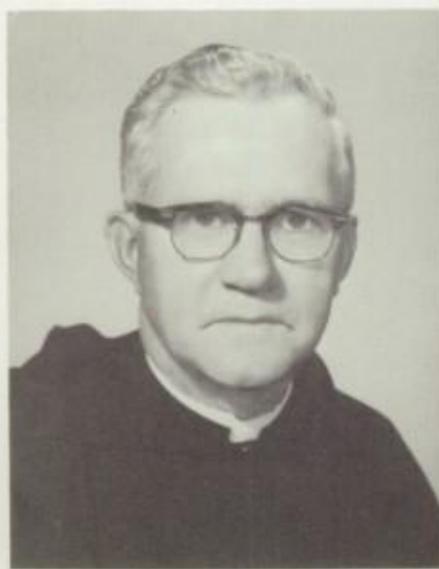

Fr. LaVern Flach, O.S.A., who teaches Geometry, Algebra II, and Mathematical Analysis, holds a Master's degree from Villanova University. Head of the Guidance Department and Moderator of the Cascian, he has been here since 1956. He is also Sub-Prior of the Monastery.

Mr. Roger Flynn, who came to St. Rita in 1966 and is a member of the Mathematics Department, teaches Algebra I and Religion III. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in philosophy from Villanova University and his special interests consist of sports and free-lance writing.

In math analysis class, Senior Hank Marczewski shows his classmates what the intersection of a circle and a parabola looks like when graphed.

Fr. Thomas Van Thienen, O.S.A., started teaching at St. Rita in 1953. He teaches Algebra I and Geometry. Fr. Van Thienen received a Doctorandus from the State University of Utrecht in Holland. He is interested in bowling and electronics.

Mr. Norbert Lasky questions Rich Korzonek and Jeff Prestinario on a few details of their geometric proof.

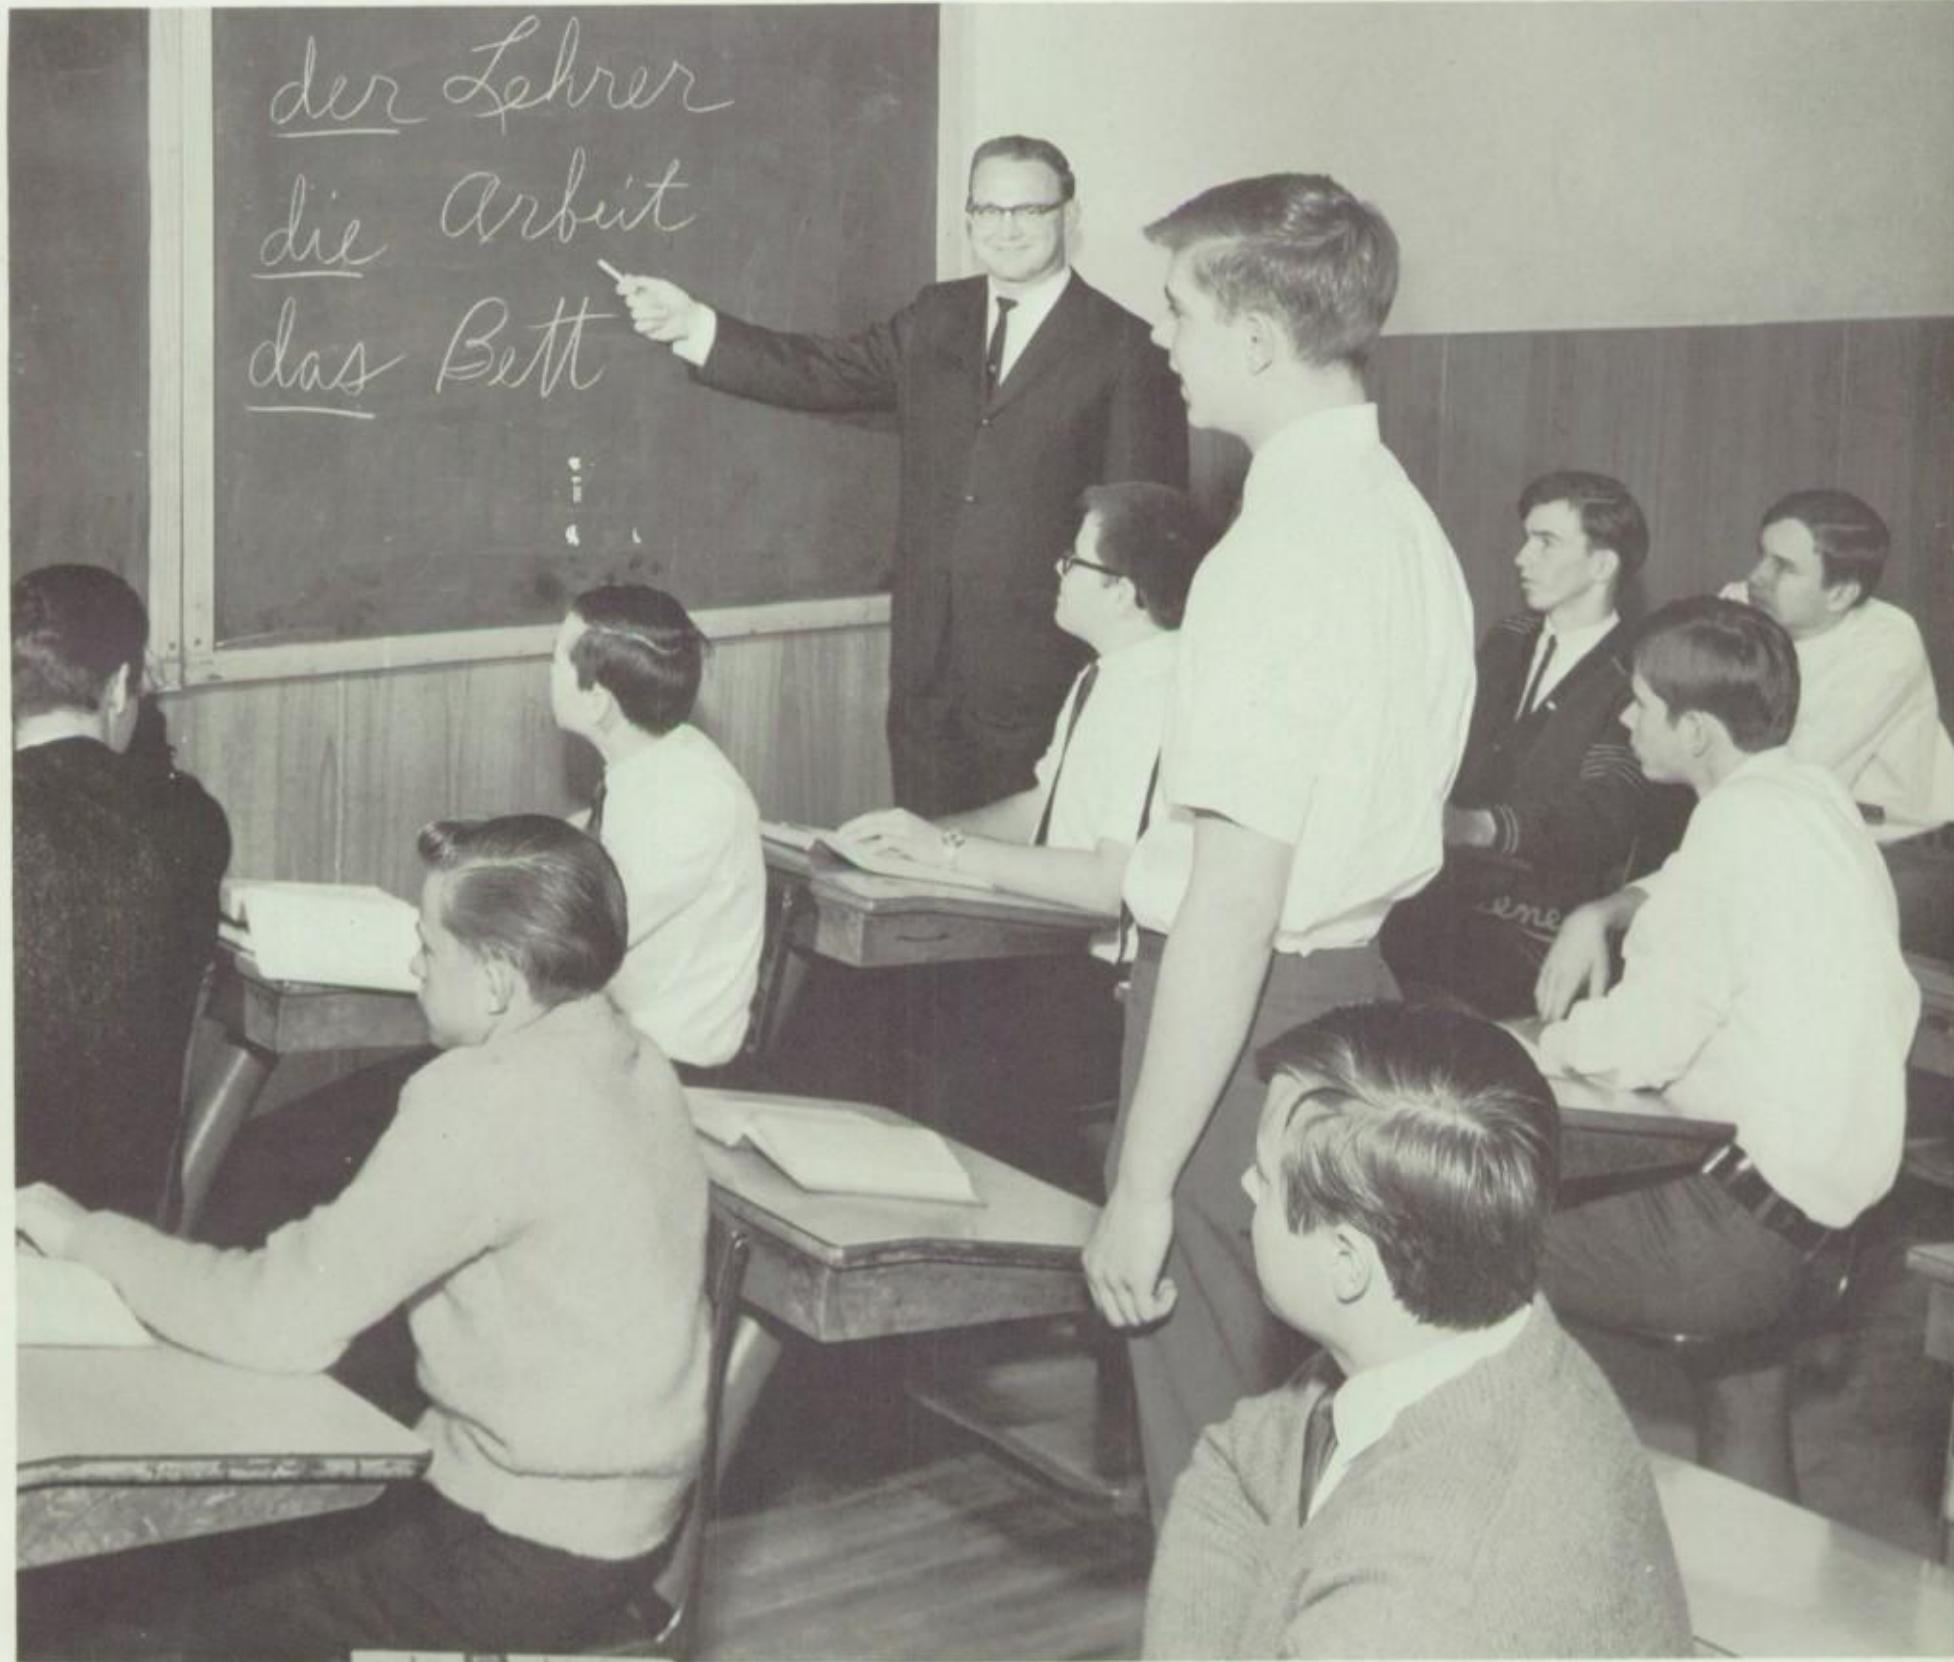

Language Department Adds Third Year Spanish

Although German will remain a two year course in the future, French and Latin will continue the cycle into the third year. Third year Spanish is already taught and therefore will eventually be a four year course. Father Mario J. Porreca, head of the language department, has goals of four year courses in each of the four languages.

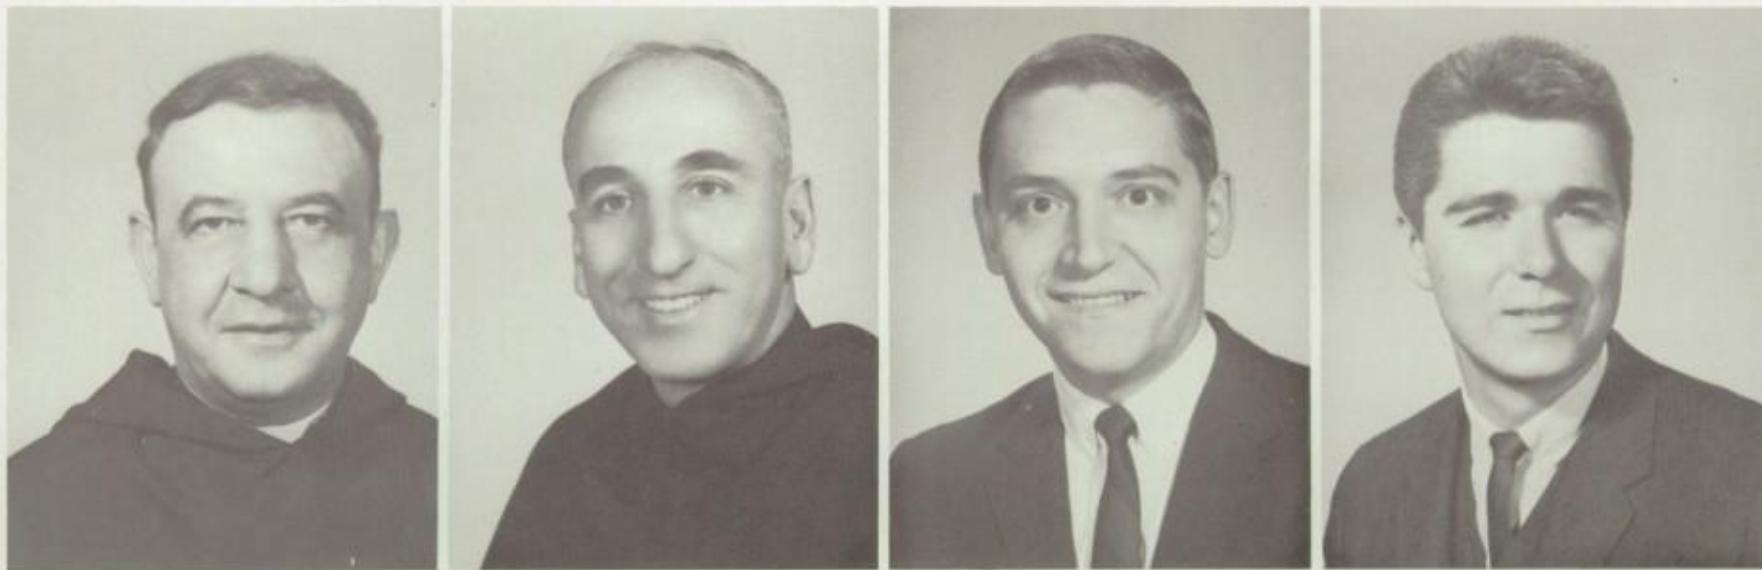

Among the various ideas to make the language study more interesting are magazines, newspapers, films and foreign pen-pals. Besides showing films once a week, Mr. Gregory Pawlowski has given his French students the opportunity to write to pen-pals in Europe. He says that communication between languages and countries helps students not only to learn the foreign language better, but also to form opinions and to be acquainted with the culture and customs of European countries. Foreign magazines are offered to both Spanish and German students while other Spanish students may, subscribe to the Spanish newspaper La Luz.

A foreign language coupled with techniques used by language teachers improve a student's understanding of his language and also widens his cultural background.

New Dean of Science Implements Many Innovations

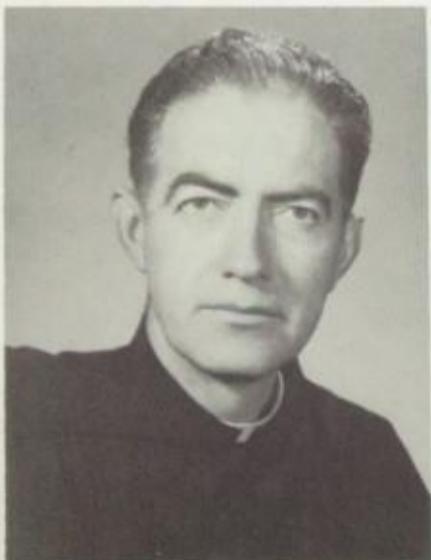

Several changes have been accomplished by Fr. Francis Lawlor, newly appointed Chairman of the Science department. A course in electronics is now offered to seniors. Using Electronics Technology by Charles Dougherty as their text book, students study the theory of the course by building circuits. The practical side of the course is emphasized by Fr. Casimir Pażera who inserts problems into the circuits. The students must then troubleshoot the problems and write a report on how they found it.

New storage facilities have been added to the biology lab. This was made possible by the conversion of the Ritan Room into a storage room thus giving more space to the lab itself. This available space allows students to do more experimentation. Dissecting a fetal pig is just one of the unforgettable experiments conducted here.

The course in Earth Science this year got a new laboratory. The new lab allows experiments in geology and meteorology, primary topics in the course.

Head Reports Record Use of Visual Aids

"To keep the school well supplied with helpful materials is the purpose and goal of the Department of Instructional Materials." The Department, is composed of Chairman Fr. Edward La Morte, O.S.A., his assistant Mr. John Stobba, O.S.A., and twelve student aides. The Department has grown over the past few years from merely a book center to a literal "storehouse" of apparatus for educational instruction. Included this year are film projectors, overhead projectors, tape recorders, film strips, and transparencies, the clear plastic sheets used in the overhead projectors. And still, the Department serves as the book center, ordering and passing out paperbacks to students for their convenience.

Mr. John Stobba and Patrick Carey count off books which will be sent to various classes as outside reading assignments.

Technical Students Visit Local Contractors

To provide students with knowledge that surpasses mere textbook knowledge, the technical department has put greater emphasis on student activities outside the classroom. The advanced drawing classes laid out a parking lot for a local auto dealer, with a cash prize going to the best layout. The advanced architectural students visit local industrial, business, and residential contractors, discuss their various fields, and then present to the class an oral report on what they have learned.

For the freshmen, a revised mechanical drawing book has been introduced, which stresses more modernistic methods of teaching drawing. Freshmen enrolled in the general shop courses learn woodworking and plastics. Sophomores learn how to operate lathes, jigsaws, and sanders.

In the automotive course, sophomores are given not only textbook knowledge but also an opportunity to work on engines themselves. They build and tune these engines and learn about other automobile parts. Results of the student's findings and indications of his understanding are recorded on mimeographed job sheets which were prepared by their teacher, Brother Joseph.

There are many positions available today in the technical field, and many students have gone on to good paying jobs.

Using precision micrometers, Joseph Hebda and Dale Schmitz take crankshaft measurements in their auto shop class.

Tom Donnellan and Larry Racine carefully check the blueprints of their architectural drawings for clearness.

Co-operation between Salvador Galvin and Pascual Villarreal makes building this bookcase in shop class a much easier task.

During homecoming week the Spa held a Mexican Fiesta and offered such Mexican foods as tortillas and tamales. Also during homecoming week, it was host to the great-granddaughter and great-grandson of Abe Lincoln and a group of Mexican dancers.

times of the day the library is a place of activity where students browse, research, and withdraw books.

Attractive Library Displays Increase Student Reading

Offering over thirteen thousand books and adding an average of eight hundred each year, St. Rita's library provides a quiet atmosphere in which students study, read, borrow books, and do research work during lunch, study periods, and after-school hours. Its reference system, offering more than three hundred volumes, includes eight sets of encyclopedias. These volumes are used extensively by students as a source of information for term papers and discussion topics.

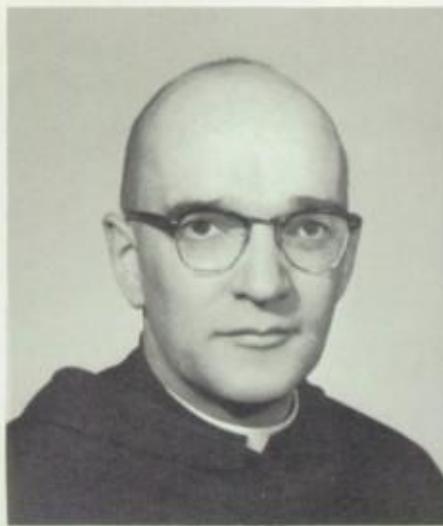

Directed by Father Joseph Derby, O.S.A., the library uses the assistance of Mrs. Lorraine Lo Coco, Father Edward La Morte, O.S.A., and Mark Nyderek, a student aide. In an effort to interest more library use, to increase student reading, and to illustrate some of the new books, the library staff under the direction of Mrs. LoCoco posts different displays featuring the jackets of books and expressing interesting current topics.

STUDENT LIFE

Besides being a good scholar, the St. Rita student must become a part of the action outside the classroom. No one can live alone and this is even more true in school. Without co-operating with his fellow students, he would not develop adequately. Likewise, without the students' interest and support, social events, school organizations, and sports would not be much to remember. Thus "student life" is not an individual process, nor is it confined to the classroom. Student life is an intermingling and union of everyone that enters the doors of St. Rita each day.

ACTIVITIES

Activities Form Vital Contribution to Student Life

Homecoming, the Dinner-Dance, the Senior Trip — these are some of the better known activities that contribute to student life at St. Rita. All of these activities are eagerly awaited, for they provide a necessary break for the oftentimes boring school-day routine. Things never look all bad when there is something big coming up, something the student has been looking forward to for weeks, maybe months.

But the story of activities at St. Rita doesn't end with gala, once-a-year happenings. A student relaxing after lunch, or gabbing between periods, is participating in perhaps the more important aspect of student life — the everyday aspect of it. The student soon becomes used to little things like these and begins to take them for granted, so that they don't do much to alleviate the boredom. But take these "little things" away, and life at school becomes next to impossible.

The picture, then, is a balanced one: a combination of the usual and the unusual, the dull and the exciting. Together, these many and very different activities help the Rita man become more experienced and better prepared to face the many and very different challenges of the future.

Spirit, Effort, Determination Spark Rita "Rebellion" Homecoming

"Determination, hard work, and tremendous school spirit were the essential ingredients which made the Rita "Rebellion" Homecoming such a great success," said Father Peck, co-ordinator of the 1967 homecoming. This success was shown extensively during Friday night's festivities.

The evening was filled with excitement as Susan Murphy was selected Homecoming Queen and Jim Stagg of WCFL, the master of ceremonies for the evening, introduced the "Flock" whose performance thrilled hundreds. Short speeches were given by Coaches Styczynski and Szot, and Principal Fr. Crawford in honor of the St. Rita Mustangs after which the crowd sent spirited applauds and loud cries out unto the field filling the air with the feeling of power and glory.

A Rita Homecoming is never complete without a fireworks show, which many thought was the most beautiful and illustrious display they had ever seen. The stadium rang with cheers and lively roars, and everyone's spirit rose to new heights.

A spirited crowd of Rita men, their dates and friends attended Friday night's festivities with excitement and great anticipation to start off the jubilant Homecoming.

Along with some of the beautifully illuminated Roman candles and skyrockets displayed in Friday night's homecoming festivities were starbursts brightening the night sky and drawing "Oohs" and "Aahs" from the crowd.

Rita Rebellion Swings Into Action

Action was the theme of Sunday, October 8. The day started with the float parade which was formed at 67th St. and California. The superbly decked floats, displaying the skill of the designers, were hailed by all as the most outstanding of many years. An overflow crowd watched the float parade and game. The float entered by 4-F received the prize of $100.

The game against the Leo Lions ended in the Mustang loss but Rita spirit and determination was shown in full force in the game and in all homecoming activities.

A-Go-Go members support the Mustangs with a loud round of cheering resounding throughout the stadium. Through such displays of enthusiasm, the remaining crowd was encouraged to do the same. Members of the faculty also took part in the student's spirit.

Anxiously awaiting the start of the game the homecoming court are Louis Ciaccio and Janice Bologna, Margaret Jamrok and William McDermott, King Melvin Dergin and Queen Susan Murphy, Kathleen Burke and Ross Staton, Sheila Murray and Bruce Miles.

Adding the final touches to the floats, Tom Pultorak and Joe Gonski prepare to start in the parade.

Making a fine impression at the start of the game, the Marching Mustangs play before the homecoming crowd.

Proms, Dances, Sock-Hops Highlight Activities

Spirit throughout the school year was generated by Proms, Dances and Sock-Hops. On the Saturday night of Homecoming Week-end, a Coronation Dance was held in honor of the Homecoming Queen. The band promoted the Snow Ball Dance, which was a semi-formal event, on Saturday, December 23. During the second semester various dances and sock-hops were promoted by many of the school's organizations. Among them was the Mission Dance which was held to earn money for the South American and Japanese Missions. Another dance, which featured two big name local bands, was sponsored by the Student Council and the National Honor Society. The Junior and Senior Proms concluded the school year. The Junior Prom was held at Chateau Bouché on May 3rd. The M & M Club of the Merchandise Mart was the site of the Senior Prom on May 25th. Music was furnished by the bands of Johnny Gilbert and "The Highlighters." The second band also played special numbers at individual tables.

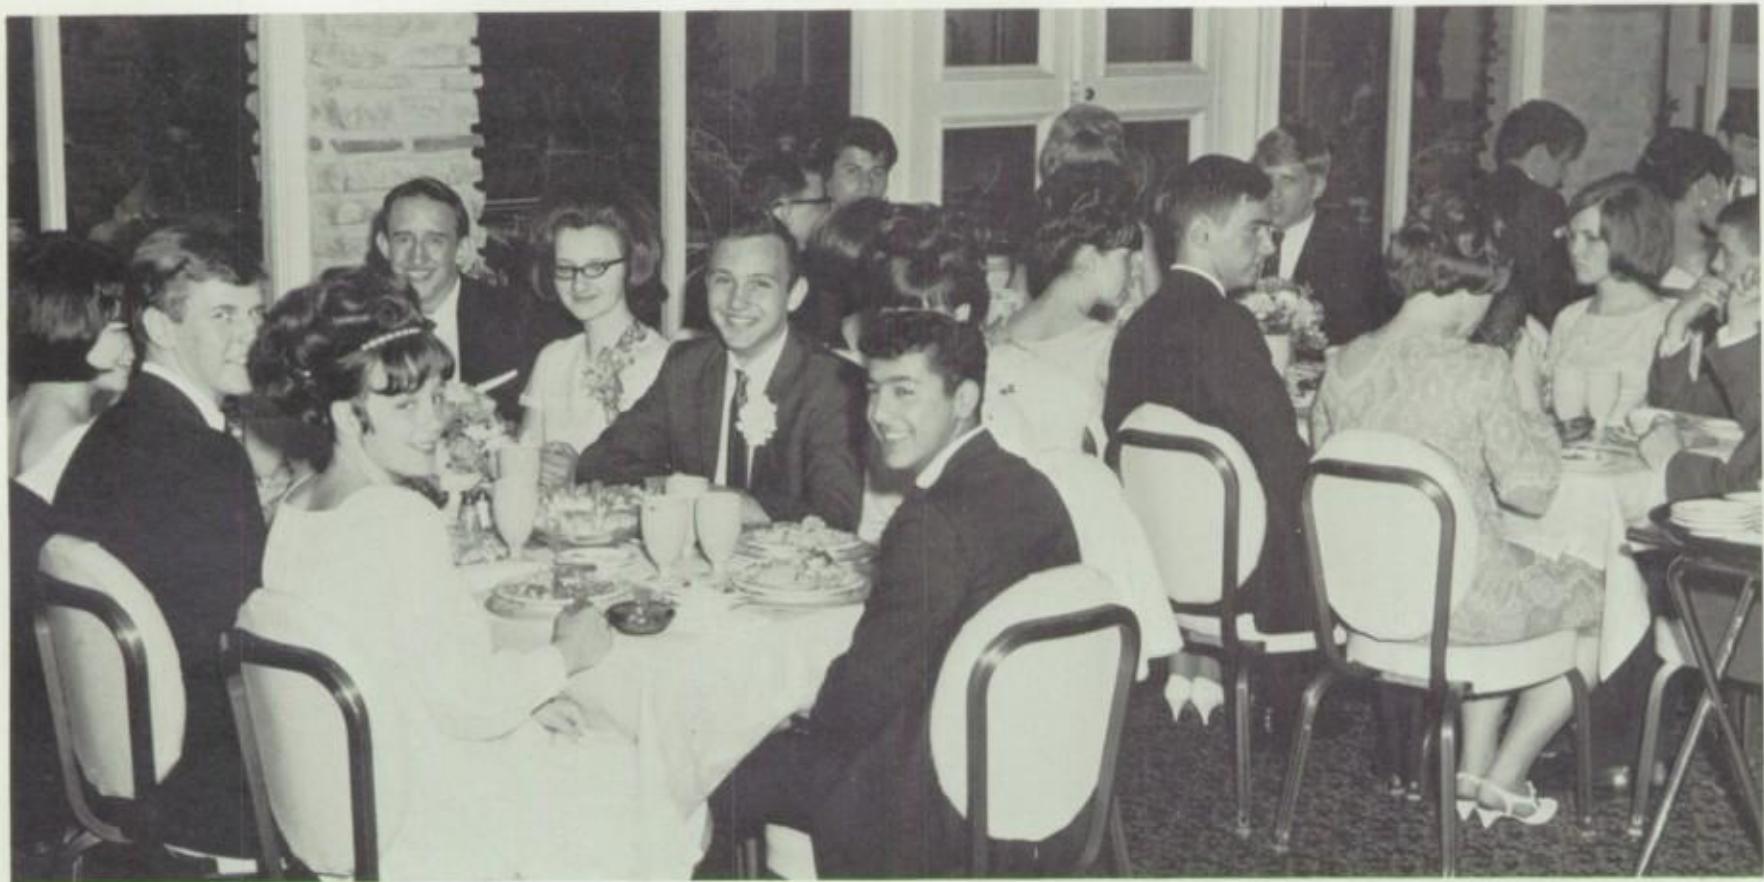

Dining and dancing made up the most memorable event of the school year — the Senior Prom. Some two hundred and seventy-five couples

Dinner-Dance Reflects Student's Social Life

Drawing towards the end of another school year, the student's interest in "Rita affairs" was not exhausted, but rather deepened with enthusiastic spirit.

One event which reflected the student's social life was the Junior-Senior Dinner-Dance, which was held on March 31 at the Ferrara Manor. It drew 100 Rita men and their dates. The tickets were purchased for $9.00 a couple. The evening included lively music, dancing, and a tasty nine-course smorgasborg.

Sponsored by the Student Council under the direction of Fr. Peck, the evening emerged as a memorable one.

Senior Al Marco and Geri Connolly amuse Fr. Michael Hogan, O.S.A., Kevin Downs and his date, Mary DiBartolo, who take advantage of the intermission and refreshment time.

Rita men Tom Dorcak, Mike Riley, and Sam Valeo find time after dinner to formulate lively discussion with their dates.

Tom Fitzgibbon, Dan Keenan, Carl Gatto, Louis Frangella, and their dates, and Fr. Hogan enjoy a few minutes of relaxation.

Socializing and dancing highlights the evening's entertainment as Rita men and their dates enjoy themselves on the dance floor. The band played a large number of varied melodies and popular songs, and also special teenage tunes upon request.

One of these was Casimir Hryncewicz, who became a semi-finalist in the scholarship program. Twice as many seniors—63 received Illinois State scholarships in comparison to last year. A new policy developed by the Father's Club now presents twenty-five dollars to the top student of each class. The Freshman Scholarship program, now in its third year, continues to present the best students to St. Rita. Numerous individual awards were also attained by students through societies and associations outside of school. In St. Rita of Cascia Church located at 63rd Street and Washtenaw Ave., the graduates and their families stand during the mass celebrated by Father Francis McDonnell who recently celebrated his silver jubilee and is the Dean of the Religion Department.

Graduation Opens Minds to Challenge of Future

With Diplomas in their hands, the graduates end four years of study and work. During the ceremony many feelings pass through their minds. What the future has in store for them is a primary question. Part of the answer lies in what they have already accomplished, for their achievements mold their destiny. Feelings of satisfaction and pride are reflected as they realize the years of study were a good preparation. As result of their work they will meet the challenges of the future.

During the Baccalaureate Mass celebrated in St. Rita Church the graduates receive Holy Communion from Fr. James Corrigan.

Fr. Francis Crawford, the Principal, introduces the speaker who will deliver the baccalaureate address.

A graduate is congratulated by the Very Reverend David Fullmur who represents John-Cardinal Cody.

The moderators of the Junior trip, Mr. Donald Racky and Fr. Edward Andrews show Tom Mulvihill, Patrick Carey and Vince Krawczyk the route to Washington, D.C. This is the first time the Juniors at St. Rita were offered an educational tour.

Juniors, Seniors Depart in Opposite Directions

On Monday Morning, April 15, 43 juniors and their moderators departed from Chicago aboard scenic road cruisers. The following days were filled with stops at Gettysburg; Washington, D.C.; Colonial Williamsburg and Annapolis, Maryland.

Almost two days were spent exploring our Nation's capital. The tour of the city began with a breathtaking view from atop the Washington Monument. The Pentagon and Lincoln Memorial were just a few of the sites visited. On April 20 the Juniors returned home.

On the same morning, April 15, approximately 60 seniors departed from Chicago aboard an American Airlines Astrajet. The agenda for the following days included a tour of the San Francisco area, a scenic drive up the Pacific coast with an overnight stop at the Morro Bay resort, two fun-filled days at Disneyland and a tour of Los Angeles.

During the tour they visited such sites as Universal City Studios, Knolto Berry Farm and the Sunset Strip. On April 21 the seniors returned home from their memorable tour of California.

Richard Zahradnik, Peter Venturlli and Robert Gunnell assist Mr. Joseph Bamberger and Fr. John Peck, the moderators of the Senior trip, in planning the tour.

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations Promote Friendship, Co-operation

Organizations hold the key to a different, dynamic aspect of life in the school community. After-school meetings, late-hour rehearsals, gym nights — all break the routine of classrooms and stairways. Instead, with the pressure relieved, members get a chance to meet, and discuss problems with fellow members and moderators. Thus, organizations open the door to social unity and faster friendship and co-operation.

Organizations are not "all fun and no play," though. They perform services, however small, to the school, and make school life more exciting and more complete.

Thus, organizations perform services to the school, yet create an atmosphere of friendship and co-operation by providing the chance to mingle and enjoy each others company without the pressures of daily school routine.

With the game even, Jim Matthews looks for a way to get his pawn down to the other end of the board for a queen, while Tom Plant finds ways to hamper him.

Important Activities Mark K of A's First Year

The Knights of Augustine, a new organization, has engaged itself in many activities. Besides its monthly meetings, the members have come together for various events. The club sponsored a picnic, a pool and bowling night, and two dances. The money earned from these dances was used by the K of A to send educational films and money to the Augustinian Missions in Peru and Japan. Other activities sponsored by the club were a beach and card party.

Fraternal unity was shown when the club made and displayed posters in the stadium, backing the eleven K of A members who are on the football team.

At Christmas time, the fraternity sponsored two projects. Project Inner-City, in cooperation with the Christian Family Movement, sponsored a food drive among the students of St. Rita High School. Under the direction of chairman, Marty Crane, food was gathered for delivery to a central city parish for distribution. Through the second Christmas project, Project Santa, the Knights of Augustine sent gifts to the children of Servicemen in Viet Nam. Tim Mingeay was the chairman of this project.

Besides being a social club, the Knights of Augustine is also a Catholic and Augustinian fraternal society. The members strive for Christian living in the spirit of the Augustinians.

The K of A is a modernized form of the Ancient Third Order Secular, through which the members make themselves better Catholic laymen. Under the direction of their chaplain, Father Andrews, the Knights of Augustine enjoy themselves socially as well as improve themselves spiritually, and participate in civic affairs.

Jim Finn as Santa Claus helps Bill Schrimpl, Al Marco, Mike Wilkinson, Jim Zotti and Tom Rahlfs wrap gifts for children in Chicagoland whose fathers are on duty in Viet Nam.

Father Andrews discusses Religious booklets with the fraternity officers: President Tim Mingeay, Treasurer Vince O'Grady, Secretary Jim McGloin and Vice President Brad Wisniewski.

Marty Crane, Kevin Howe, John Griffin and Bob Scheidt help chairman Tom Howard decide which films would be best to send to the Augustinian Missions in Peru.

Ritan Begins Program Of Innovation, Focuses On Students' Interests, Strives For All-American

Endeavoring to print only stories of common interest and concern to the students, the Ritan, moderated by Mr. Donald Racky, started a program of innovation this year. The program began with the publishing of a special Homecoming edition in October just in time for the major school event. In later issues, editorials dealing with controversial issues were given special attention, and greater depth in human interest stories was achieved.

Trying to get the staff comfortable enough to operate smoothly, Mr. Racky was instrumental in getting a newly remodeled Ritan room. This room, complete with air conditioning, was intended to create a homey and friendly atmosphere which would encourage livelier conversation and more creative ideas. The Ritan also acquired the use of the gym once each week in order to get the members better acquainted and to promote a feeling of unity and co-operation. On these gym nights the staff members got together to play basketball or to just talk with each other.

As a result of much hard work, the Ritan once again received a "first place" rating from both the National Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Press Association. This rating is second only to the All-American. With a little more effort, the Ritan hopes to get the All-American rating itself.

In the future, the Ritan hopes to improve in all areas of publication, and plans to continue to print only those stories which are interesting and relevant to the students.

Editors-in-chief Gary Waxmonsky, Mike Riley, and Ray Tomczak look on as Moderator Mr. Donald Racky points out a picture which will be used in the sports section of a coming edition.

Assistant Editors Bill Doyle, Mike Kisicki, Bryan O'Connor, Jim Melaniphy, and Mike Wachowski review the latest Ritan issue, looking for areas where improvement is needed.

Cascian Receives Third All-American Award

Faces, groups, activities, sports — these are a few of the many topics covered in the Cascian. A pictorial and editorial view of student life is presented with the invaluable assistance of the Cascian staff.

As a result of the efforts of the staff, the Cascian was awarded the All-American rating for the third consecutive year by the National Scholastic Press Association. Also, it was awarded the Medalist Award from the Colombia Press Association for the second time.

In addition to the Junior and Senior members, seventeen Sophomores joined the staff and were trained in the principles and techniques of layout and writing by means of both lecture and practice.

The four editors, Ray Tomeczak, Ed Kostro, Chris Kowalski, and Gary Waxmonsky, who planned the structure and organization of the Cascian, attended a one-day workshop at Elmhurst College in May 1967.

National Honor Society Conducts PTA Survey

Respected by the faculty and student body, the National Honor Society is an effective and active organization in the school. The membership is comprised of seniors of the highest calibre. Qualifications are outstanding academic achievement, participation in extra-curricular activities, and high personal qualities. Most members have received scholarships or commendations.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to promote scholarship and leadership qualities in the members and to serve as preparation for social and academic college life. Members often perform services for the school, thus rendering valuable assistance to the faculty. Members have acted as proctors for the entrance examinations for incoming freshmen and often substitute for the teachers of the underclassmen. Aside from these activities, the members also assist the school during the freshmen orientations and tutor freshmen who have academic difficulties. The National Honor Society also is conducting a survey of Parent-teacher groups in surrounding schools, a project conducted under the direction of Kevin Downs.

However, the Honor Society also has its fun side. Every year, the NHS holds its annual banquet, financed by the dances held by the Honor Society every spring. The money was also used to purchase blazers for each of the members, among other benefits, all due to the hard work of the members.

In past years, the Society, under the direction of its moderator, Fr. Robert Verstynen, O.S.A., has helped bring the name of the school to a higher degree. Every spring, new Junior members are initiated into the Society which has helped the school in its various activities and events.

Band Captures First Place At Riverview Mardi Gras

Once again the Marching Mustangs of St. Rita brought home awards and praise for their excellent performances around the midwest. Through the efforts of Fr. John Peck, the moderator, and Mr. Louis Ricci, the director, the band, under tri-state competition, won first place at the Riverview Mardi Gras and third place at the Michigan City Summer Festival.

Some other people responsible for the band's success are: Mr. Charles Yara and Mr. Daniel Rosinski, assistant directors; Mr. Robert Black, choreographer. This year's officers were Thomas Kolecki, president; Fred Herr, first vice-president; Dave Kolton, second vice-president; Charles Anderson, secretary; Dan Veitkus, treasurer; Michael Curran.

While playing for the De Paul-Notre Dame and Loyola-Marquette basketball games, they were seen all over Chicago and its suburbs on television. Besides playing for all St. Rita football games, the band performed a spring concert and Christmas shows.

Performing is not the only feature of the band; it provides fun and relaxation for its members. On January 19, the band went on a ski trip. During Christmas time, they presented their annual dance and a week later they were treated by the Band Boosters to a formal banquet at Ferrara Manor.

Awaiting the whistle of the drum major, the enthusiastic band members continue their excellent performance at half-time. Some of the more popular routines were performed to the music of "Joshua," "Georgie Girl," and "Spanish Flea."

Rita A-Go-Go Club Arouses Enthusiasm at Faculty-Varsity Game

By leading the cheering and by introducing the players at football and at basketball games, St. Rita's pep organization, Rita-A-Go-Go, encourages the student body to actively take part in supporting the teams. Besides taking care of the half-time entertainment, the club, chanting fight slogans and singing the school song, inspires nonclub members to follow its example. The club also encourages the growth of well-rounded men by bringing the students out to the games. The club's members help in boosting school spirit by making posters and by talking about the games to their classmates. Obtaining funds from dances and from a faculty-varsity basketball game, the club is able to provide free buses to the away games, to hold student pep rallies, and to hold card and pizza parties. Besides these activities, the club also promoted student interest through discussions held at its regular bimonthly meetings. Now in its third year, in addition to extending its influence, the club hopes to further the amount of student participation in the future through closer contact with the Student Council.

This year's Science Club has decided to work exclusively in the field of chemistry. Experiments, directed by Mr. Edward Dudek, help the members apply and increase their knowledge of chemical action. The organization serves as a training ground for future scientific endeavor.

As regards activities, club leaders have prepared a trip to Argon Laboratories and lectures by various teachers, as well as the Annual Science Fair. President of the Science Club is Norbert Schranz; Vice-President, Michael Kisicki; Secretary, Robert Macejak; and Treasurer, Henry Valiulis.

New Moderator Heads Stamp & Coin Club

A new moderator has injected fresh life into the St. Rita Stamp and Coin Club. Under Fr. John FitzGerald, the group has reached a high degree of enthusiasm and accomplishment. Members recently completed a successful drive for pop bottle labels to help finance their annual exhibit in the school library. This year's theme is to be "Progress Through International Understanding."

Lively trade sessions follow every club meeting, and active discussions about the many different facets of stamp and coin collecting are frequent. These projects are conducted under the leadership of President Vytautas Ramonis and Secretary Stanley Aukstinaitis.

The combined Choruses of St. Rita and Maria High School sang "Carol of the Bells," "Lo! How a Rose E'er Blooming" and "Good King Wenceslaus" during their Christmas Program on December 17. Bro. Mark was the director and Shiela McAndrews, the pianist.

Christmas Program Highlights Chorus Year

New surroundings, new ideas, new faces, determination, and enthusiasm were the active ingredients which made up this year's success story.

Under the direction of Brother Mark, O.S.A., sixty men performed at the Faculty Christmas Party. A Christmas Concert with the Maria High School Choral Club was also presented. Liturgical functions included the Alumni Mass, Christmas and Holy Week Services, and the Annual Novena. Performances for the Mother's Club, the Parent's Program, and Graduation Exercises completed a busy musical year.

Co-operation on the part of Officers Rich Potempa, Vince Krawczyk, Ed Burmila, Dave Fedro, Jim Gorski, and Den Johnston; social and athletic events enjoyed by all; interest in learning and sharing vocal music; dedication and loyalty to St. Rita High School — all added up to a wonderful experience — Chorus '68.

Junior Dennis Johnston and Senior David Hoare are two of the Chorus second tenors. They are frequently asked to sing.

Student Council Suggests Basketball Homecoming

Student Council Officers: Secretary Mike Riley, Treasurer Mark Vinci, Vice-President Mike Sheehan, President Al Marco, observe Junior election results with Moderator Fr. John Peck.

Promoting student support in school activities and expressing the views of the student body are the aims of the Student Council who meet once a week. The Council had an active role in sponsoring the homecoming and Junior-Senior Dinner Dance, and forming cheering sections at games.

Under the provisions of the new Constitution, the Student Council has come up with many new suggestions. The representative of each section takes these proposals to his class and has the section vote on them. Such proposals were whether or not juniors should have off bounds privileges and should students be able to wear any-colored shirts. Mandatory rallies and sock-hops after basketball games were also suggested. The Council went so far as to propose smoking privileges for the students. Through moderator Fr. John Peck, a basketball homecoming was advised to stimulate as much interest in basketball as there was in football.

Chess Team Repeats South Section Champs

The Chess Club meets every Tuesday and Thursday in the Physics Lab. Each member is charged $1.00 dues to contribute to the purchase of chess sets and magazines. Moderator Mr. Ronald Dvorak has set up a challenge system in which all members are rated according to ability. The top six players get a chance to compete in competition against other schools. In its second year of league play, the chess team again took first place in the South Section of the Chicago Chess Conference. If the club can defeat the North Section champs, Mr. Dvorak would like to challenge the Public League winners for the city championship.

Servers Club Performs Enjoyable Projects, Desirable Services To Benefit School, Community

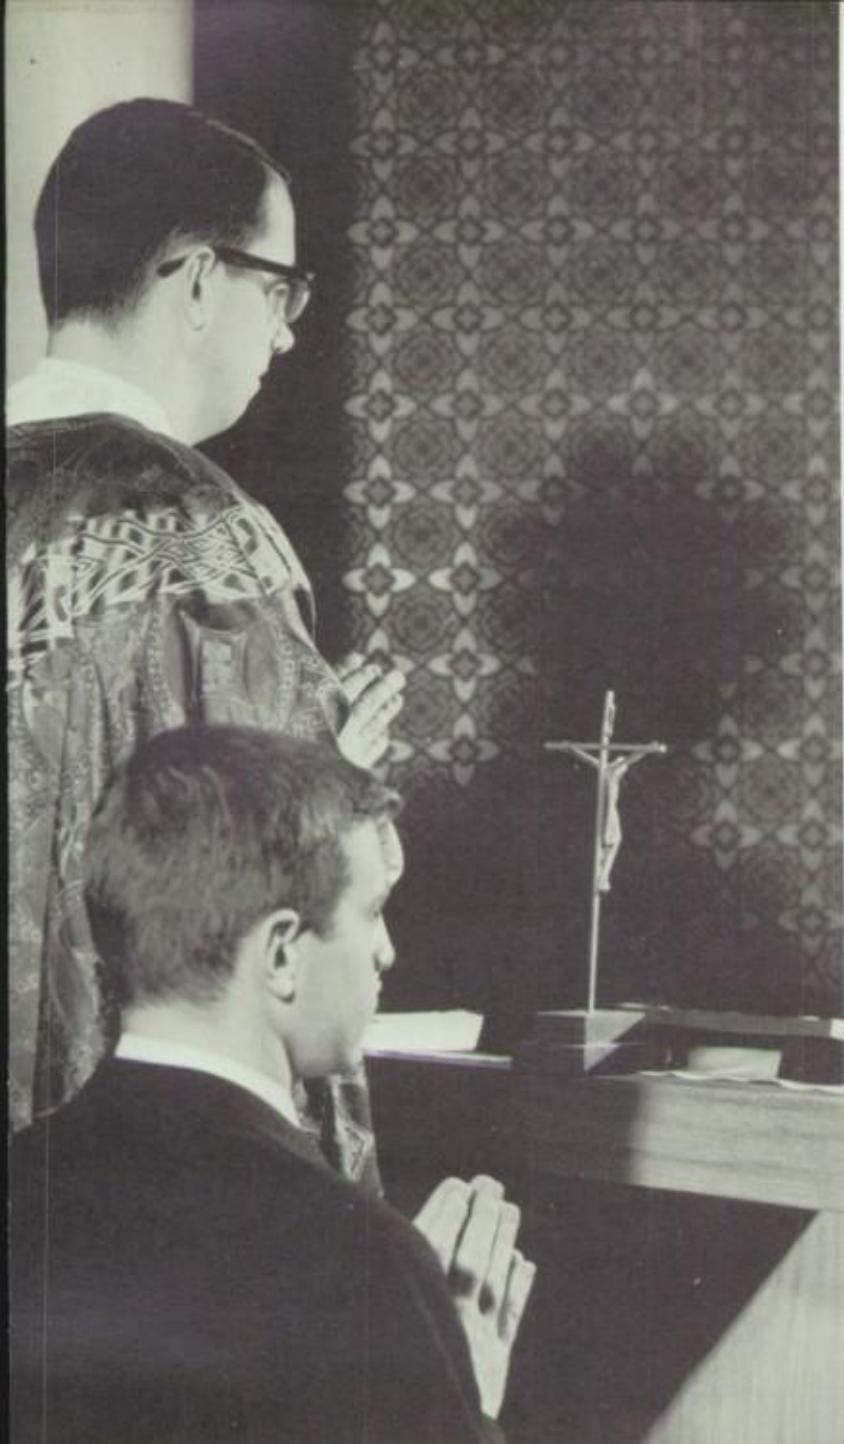

Under the guidance of Father James Corrigan, O.S.A., the Servers Club assists the priests at Mass on Sunday and week days, at both the monastery and student chapel. It also strives to perform needed services, which benefit the school and community. They hold dances regularly, and their main social event was the dance on March 30. From this and other events, they obtain funds for occasional swimming, basketball, and pizza parties. "The purpose for these parties is to try and get the group together, to enjoy each other's company and establish a group identity," said Fr. Corrigan.

They also had intramural basketball games among themselves, and a major event on their calendar was a game between the Servers and the Chorus in February. Since two games were scheduled, many members were afforded the opportunity to participate. The evening ended up in a stand-off with the Chorus winning the Frosh-Soph game and the Servers Club holding off a fourth quarter rally to defeat the Chorus in the Junior-Senior game. "From these basketball games they learned what teamwork really is," mentioned Fr. Corrigan.

The greatest reward for their services came on June 3, when the annual spring picnic was held at St. Monica Novitiate in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. It was here the major and minor letters were presented along with the "Domini Servus" awards. These awards, given in memory of Fr. Joseph O'Connor, O.S.A., a former teacher at St. Rita High School, were presented to Seniors John Danca and Michael Kuzlik for their outstanding service to the school, community, and the Club itself. Major letters were awarded to those members who have served for two years or more while minor letters were presented to those members who have completed one year of service.

Moderator Fr. James Corrigan O.S.A., Vice-President Al Marco, Freshman Representative Vince Terrazzino, Junior Representative John Griffin, Sophomore Representative Bob Plecki, and senior Representative Mike Kuzlik discuss plans for the annual spring picnic.

As a faithful server, Vince Terrazzino comes early to assist at Mass. Not only does Vince see that the candles are lit, but setting up the altar and getting the wine and water ready are also part of his duties.

James Dolan and Sanford Shannon recite the prayers at the foot of the altar with Fr. James Corrigan, who is seen frequently celebrating the Sacrifice of the Mass for the students in the school chapel at 9:00 A.M.

History Club Gains Impetus With Bulging Schedule of Talks, Meetings, Slides, Movies

Entering its second year, the St. Rita History Club, formally entitled the Herodotian Society, demonstrated pyrotechnical progress after a languid beginning. Fr. Anthony Hogan, O.S.A., replaced Mr. Ronald Nowak, occupied with basketball coaching activities, as moderator of the group. Realizing the History Club's aims, he organized meetings and events devised to aid members in learning man's motivations and their results. Typical of these plans was a fascinating talk, accompanied by color slides, about the Renaissance by Fr. John FitzGerald, O.S.A. The group anxiously attended a performance of the motion picture version of "Camelot," Lerner and Loewe's renowned Arthurian musical opus. Another movie, the Oscar-winning "A Man for All Seasons," was also seen. A series of slides on Russia was presented. Future events include talks by St. Rita history teachers about New World exploration and U.S. Presidents.

Secretary-Treasurer Henry Kaczmarski, Vice-President Gary Sladek, and President Gary Waxmonsky advise Moderator Fr. Anthony Hogan, O.S.A., on the selection of an American biographical topic for discussion at the next meeting of the History Club.

Radio Club Acquires Attractive Facade

Efficiently supervised by Fr. Casimir Pazera, O.S.A., the Radio Club this year remodeled its "ham shack," the base of the Club's transmitting and receiving operations. As part of the renovation, a formica table top has been installed to support the radio. The Club consists of the following four branches: hi-fi stereo, radio control, electronics experimentation, and amateur radio. A weekly lecture is presented by Fr. Pazera. Patrons of these talks are given a comprehensive examination at the end of the course. A passing grade on this test earns one-half credit in electronics for the achiever. The Radio Club broadcasts under the station license "WA9DNX." Most of the members are currently studying for their amateur radio licenses. The officers of the group are as follows: William Kowalewski, President; Leo Rybka, Vice-President; Martin Buehring, Secretary; and Thomas Keslin, Treasurer.

While Treasurer Thomas Keslin and Secretary Martin Buehring prepare the "ham" radio for operation, Vice-President Leo Rybka decides which transatlantic station they will contact.

Father's Club Sponsor 4 Dances for Scholarship Aid

"Any man interested in the welfare of a former or present student of St. Rita High School is eligible for membership in St. Rita's Fathers Club." With Fr. William Thomas as moderator and Fr. Mario Porecca as assistant moderator, this club meets on the second Friday of the month. The fathers assist the school in various ways. Money from members' dues and from the four dances they sponsor is used for scholarships and for the tuition of students whose fathers died while members of the club.

Aside from giving trophies to the school's top athletes at the annual Football Banquet, the students having the highest average will receive a gift of $25 from the Club at each half.

In April 1967, Mr. Joseph Heeney was elected president for 1967-68, but died last summer. Mr. Edward Poetz then became president.

Mrs. Joseph Heeney presents monetary awards to Senior Audrius Plioplys, Junior Gary Sladek, Sophomore Adrian Soprych, and Freshmen Thomas Baltutis and Martin Baunbach, who tied for the freshmen award.

Members of the Father's Club are Fr. William Thomas, Edmund Poetz and John Hohol. These students won the annual Joe Heeney award by ranking No. 1 in their class.

Mother's Club Sponsors Faculty Christmas Party

"Let no one work for himself alone, but let all your work be for the common good." These words of St. Augustine are the theme of St. Rita's Mothers Club. Fr. Edward Andrews is the moderator of this club, which strives for better relations between students and their parents.

The Mother's Club meets on the second Monday of every month. At these meetings, business, students, and further events are discussed. However, organization projects are not the only topics which are brought up. Each meeting has a theme around which the meeting is built. For example, the first meeting of this year was entitled "Get Acquainted Party," where new members met informally and were introduced to the club. On "Fun in the Kitchen" and "Pot Luck Treats" nights, the ladies exchanged cooking tips. Another event was their annual Rummage Sale. On December 7, the club held their annual Christmas Party, at which the faculty members were the guests of honor.

Funds which the Mother's Club collects are used for school improvements.

Fr. Robert Lawrence, Mrs. Arthur Manfredi, and Fr. Francis Crawford enjoy the entertainment at the Faculty Christmas Party.

SPORTS

Sports Provide Competition, Participation, Teamwork

High school days are more than just a time for study. They are a time for competition, participation, and teamwork, a time for sports. Every individual has some interest in a particular sport whether it is football, basketball, bowling, or tennis. Making the team and being able to stay on it, give many students a sense of achievement. Even when a game is lost a player can feel he has done his part if he has co-operated with his fellow teammates. Not all students make varsity, but there are other means of competing. Often during a lunch period, a spectator can witness as much enthusiasm in an intramural game, as he does at the varsity match. But no matter what type of sport in which an individual watches or participates, this activity makes his high school life much more enjoyable.

Coach Bill Styczynski advises John Jakicic the next possible set of plays he might run.

Football Varsity Finishes Fourth in South Section

The Mustangs finished fourth in the South Section this year with a 1-4 record. Despite this record, the Mustang offense scored more points than it has in the last three years. The offense gained 1,000 yards passing in four games behind the fine passing of quarterbacks Jack Jakicic and Ed Sojka. Ends Brad Wisniewski and Kevin Downs accounted for this fine air attack. The defense was not as strong as it has been in past years, which may be attributed to a poor record.

The Mustangs under new coach Bill Styczynski are undergoing a new building process. Last year seven newcomers show action including three sophomores. Several players missed action because of injury. Among these were Paul Gary, Brad Wisniewski, and Dave Dybas.

The team captains this year were Kevin Downs, Wally Slezak, and Phil Domagalski. Brad Wisniewski, Paul Gary, and Kevin Downs made the All Conference squad because of their outstanding playing.

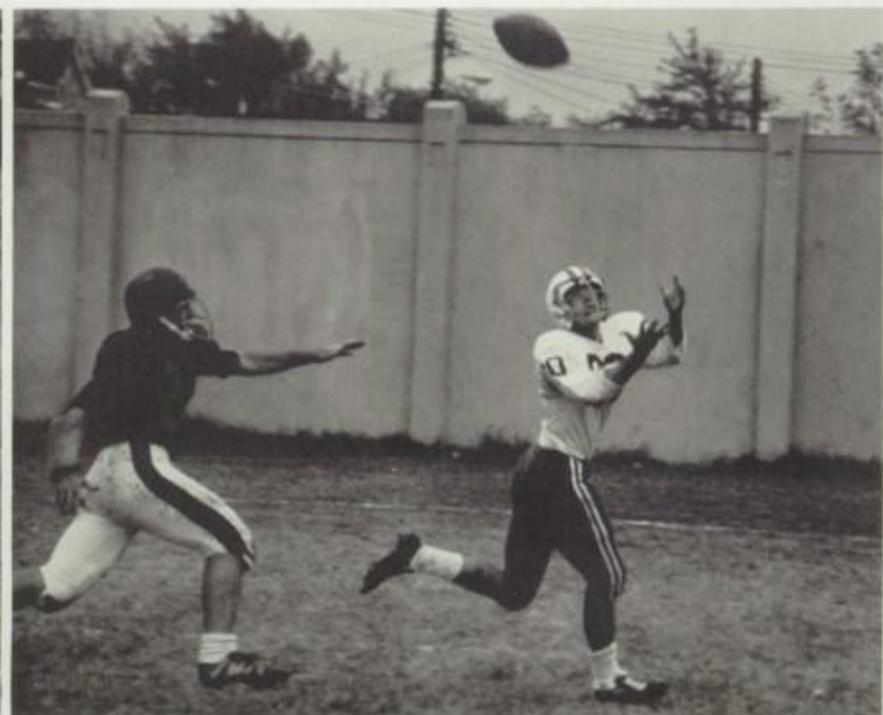

Glenn Marek plunges through the tough Loyola defense for first down yardage as Mike Wilkinson is on the spot to provide an essential block.

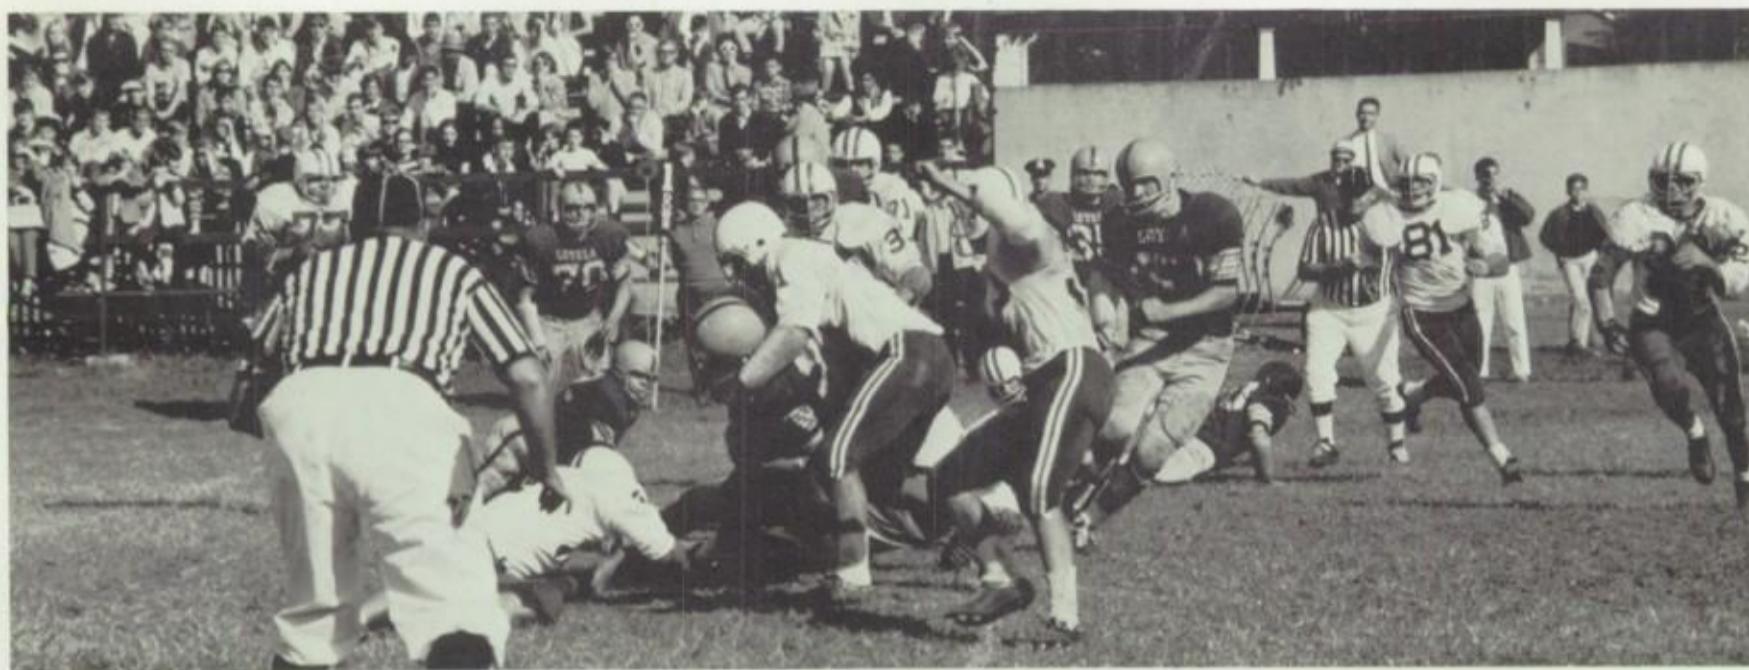

This series of plays resulted in a Mustang score against the defending champions before half time.

Fred Walton defends against Leo oncomers while John Jakicic unleashes a long pass from his fingers...

which Kevin Downs converts into a touchdown play and a St. Rita score.

Fierce St. Rita defense, represented by Fred Walton, Kevin Downs, Tim Mingeay, and Phil Domagalski, overpowers the highly-praised Loyola offense. This type of pursuit which was demonstrated several times throughout the season, attributed to the exciting play of the Mustangs.

Quarterback Jack Jakicic rolls out to the left for a short pass play and a St. Rita score as a Leo defender pursues him.

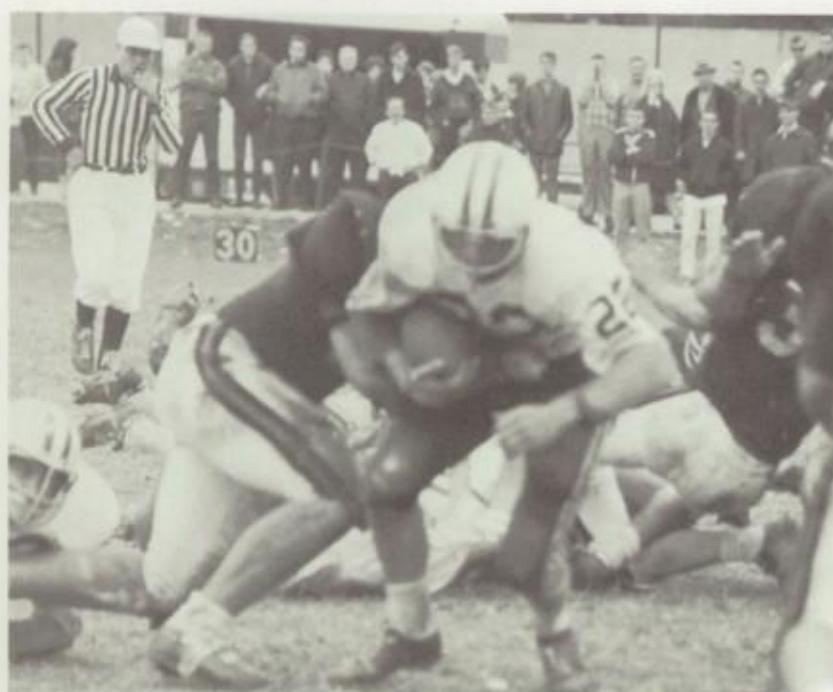

Before tumbling over, Jack Jakicic manages to get a handoff to fullback Fred Walton who takes it around the end for about fifteen yards.

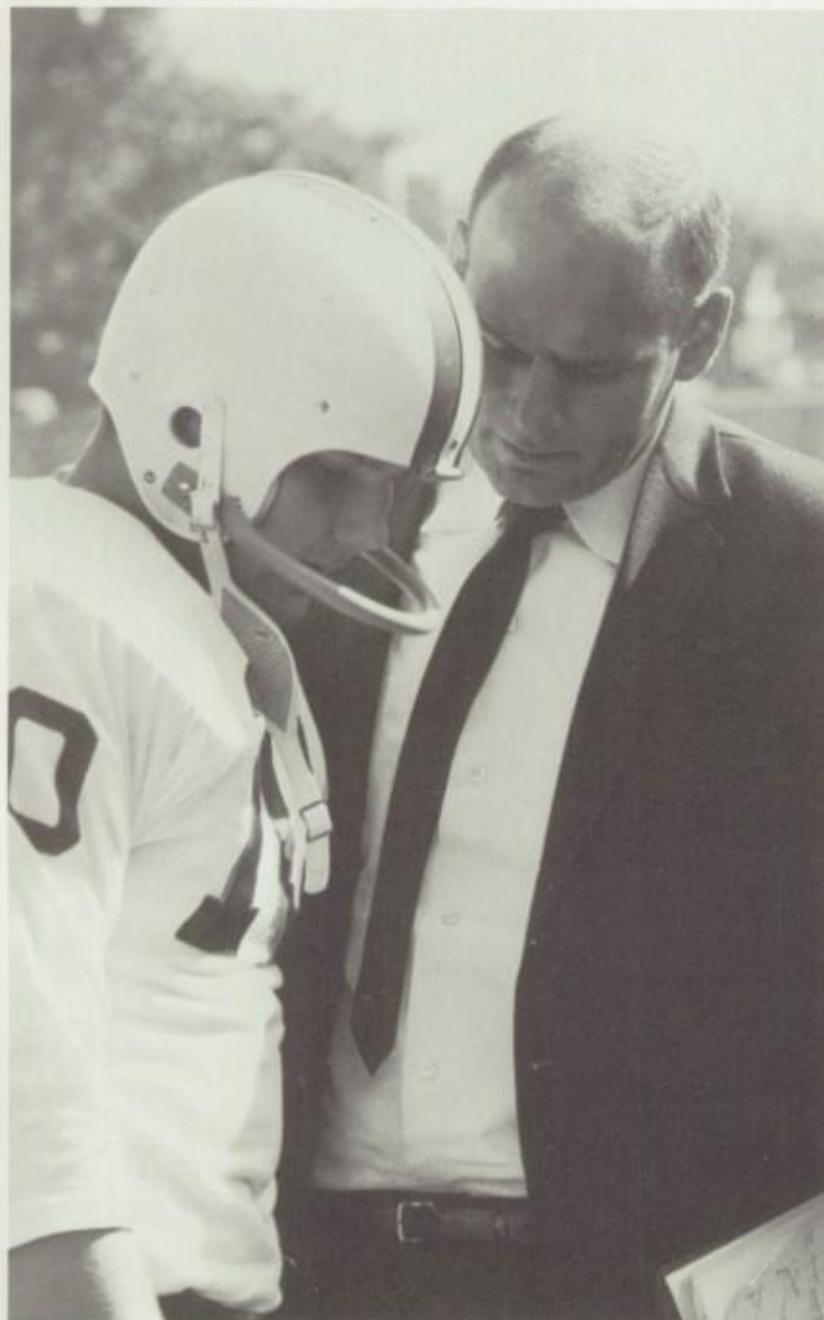

Ed Sojka hands the ball off to Glenn Marek who barrels into the Leo defense for a short gain.

Freshman Team Posts 2-3 Record

Rambling down field, Jim Salvatori eludes a Loyola defender while John Buckley hastens to help out.

After getting off to a poor start in their game against Mendel, the frosh football team finished the season strong, winning their last two games while outscoring their opponents 38-14. The defense contributed significantly to these victories by holding Weber and Mt. Carmel to one touchdown each. The most accomplished backs were Tom Schumacher and Ken Aitchison while the line was led by Jerry Ficaro; Aitchison was also high scorer on the squad. Under the direction of Mr. Al Styczynski and Mr. Jim Houlihan they were trained in the fundamentals while gaining experience which will be useful to them in the future on the varsity squad.

New Soccer Team Has Spirit—Needs Unity

Soccer has become one of the many sports played by Rita Men. With the moderation of Bro. Mark, O.S.A., some help from Mr. Dennis Szot, and the coaching of Nick Marculin, a volunteer, a team was organized. The fundamentals of soccer, dribbling, passing and shooting were taught and practiced throughout the year.

The team was shut-out in the first three scrimmages against Loyola Academy. Despite these losses team spirit and determination never faded. Coach Markulin was not concerned with the scores; he was more interested in the team's performance as a unit.

Enthusiastic team work will be much in demand as the "Mustangs" enter competition in the Chicagoland Soccer League against such teams as Brother Rice, Gordon Tech and various suburban schools.

Mustangs Finish 4th in League Play With 6-6 Record

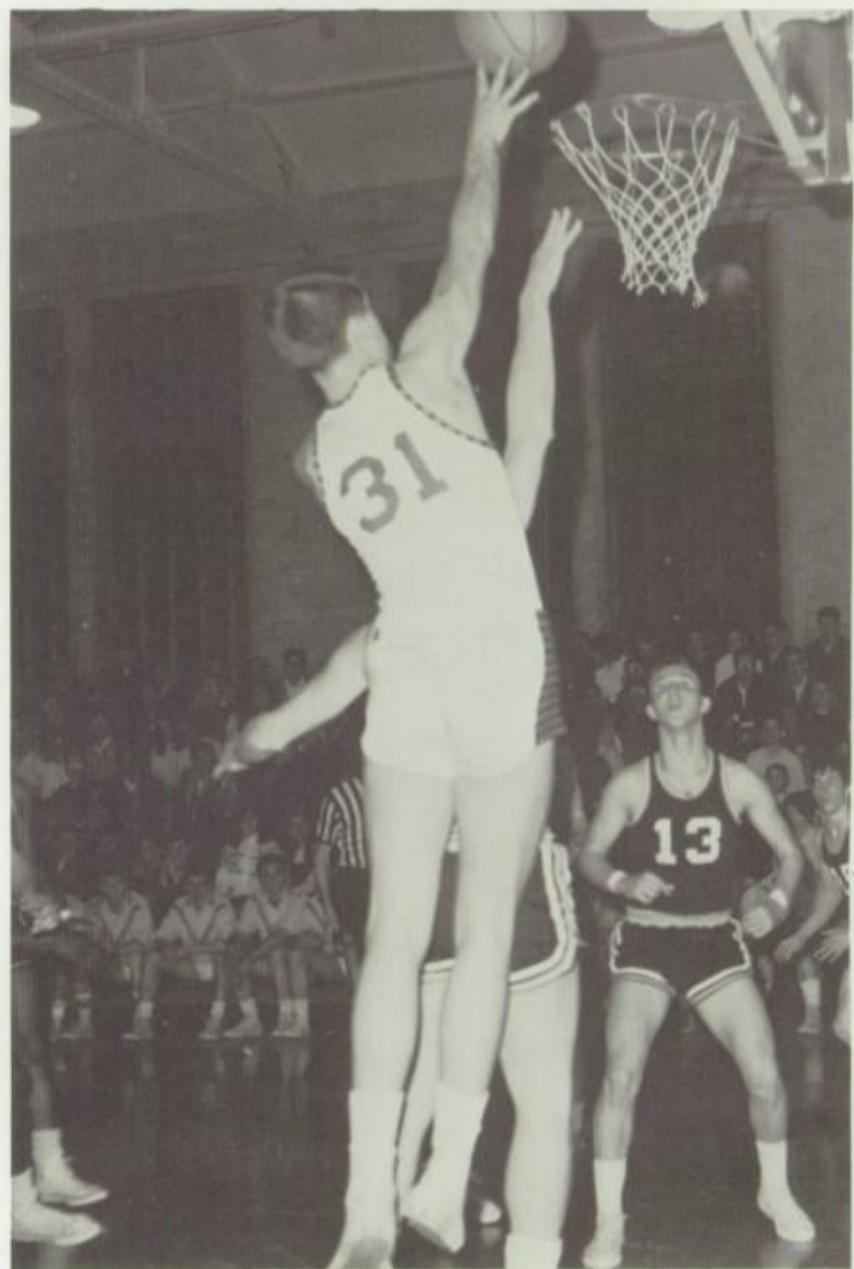

Concluding their season with a record of 9 wins against 13 losses, the heavyweight basketball team was directed by Head Coach Bob Kopecky and Assistant Coaches Ron Nowak and Ray Konrath.

The heavies played in several tight games, winning one, and losing six. These games were those played with St. Philip, Loyola, Weber, Gordon Tech, Fenwick at the DePaul Tournament, and both league games with Mount Carmel. The closest of these was the one with Fenwick. During this game the lead changed many times; with about one minute left to play in the game, the Friars got the ball and stalled for the last shot. This shot went in and the Mustangs lost by two points 51 to 49.

The Mustang attack was led by Junior center Herb Courtney, who made 176 baskets and scored 410 points overall. In the regular league season, he made 95 baskets and racked up 222 points. Second in scoring was another junior, Rich Urbanski, who made 145 of his 251 points during the league season. At the freethrow line, honors went to Jeff Prestinario and Mike Sheehan. During league play Jeff Prestinario shot for 80 percent accuracy and led with 37 free throws, while Mike Sheehan shot 65.5 percent.

After Mark Vinci's scoring tapered off, Al Fashingbauer was called to play first-string forward. During the second half of the Mendel game he injured his leg and was forced out of competition for the rest of the season. Taking his place was Jeff Prestinario from the light-weight team. In his first game on the team, he scored 12 points. After that, he slowed and the first-string then consisted of Herb Courtney, Rich Urbanski, Mike Sheehan and Bill Allard, with the other position being filled by Mark Vinci, Al Marco and Jeff Prestinario.

The Mustang heavies finished fourth with a record of six wins and six defeats, missing the Catholic league playoffs for 1968 by only one game.

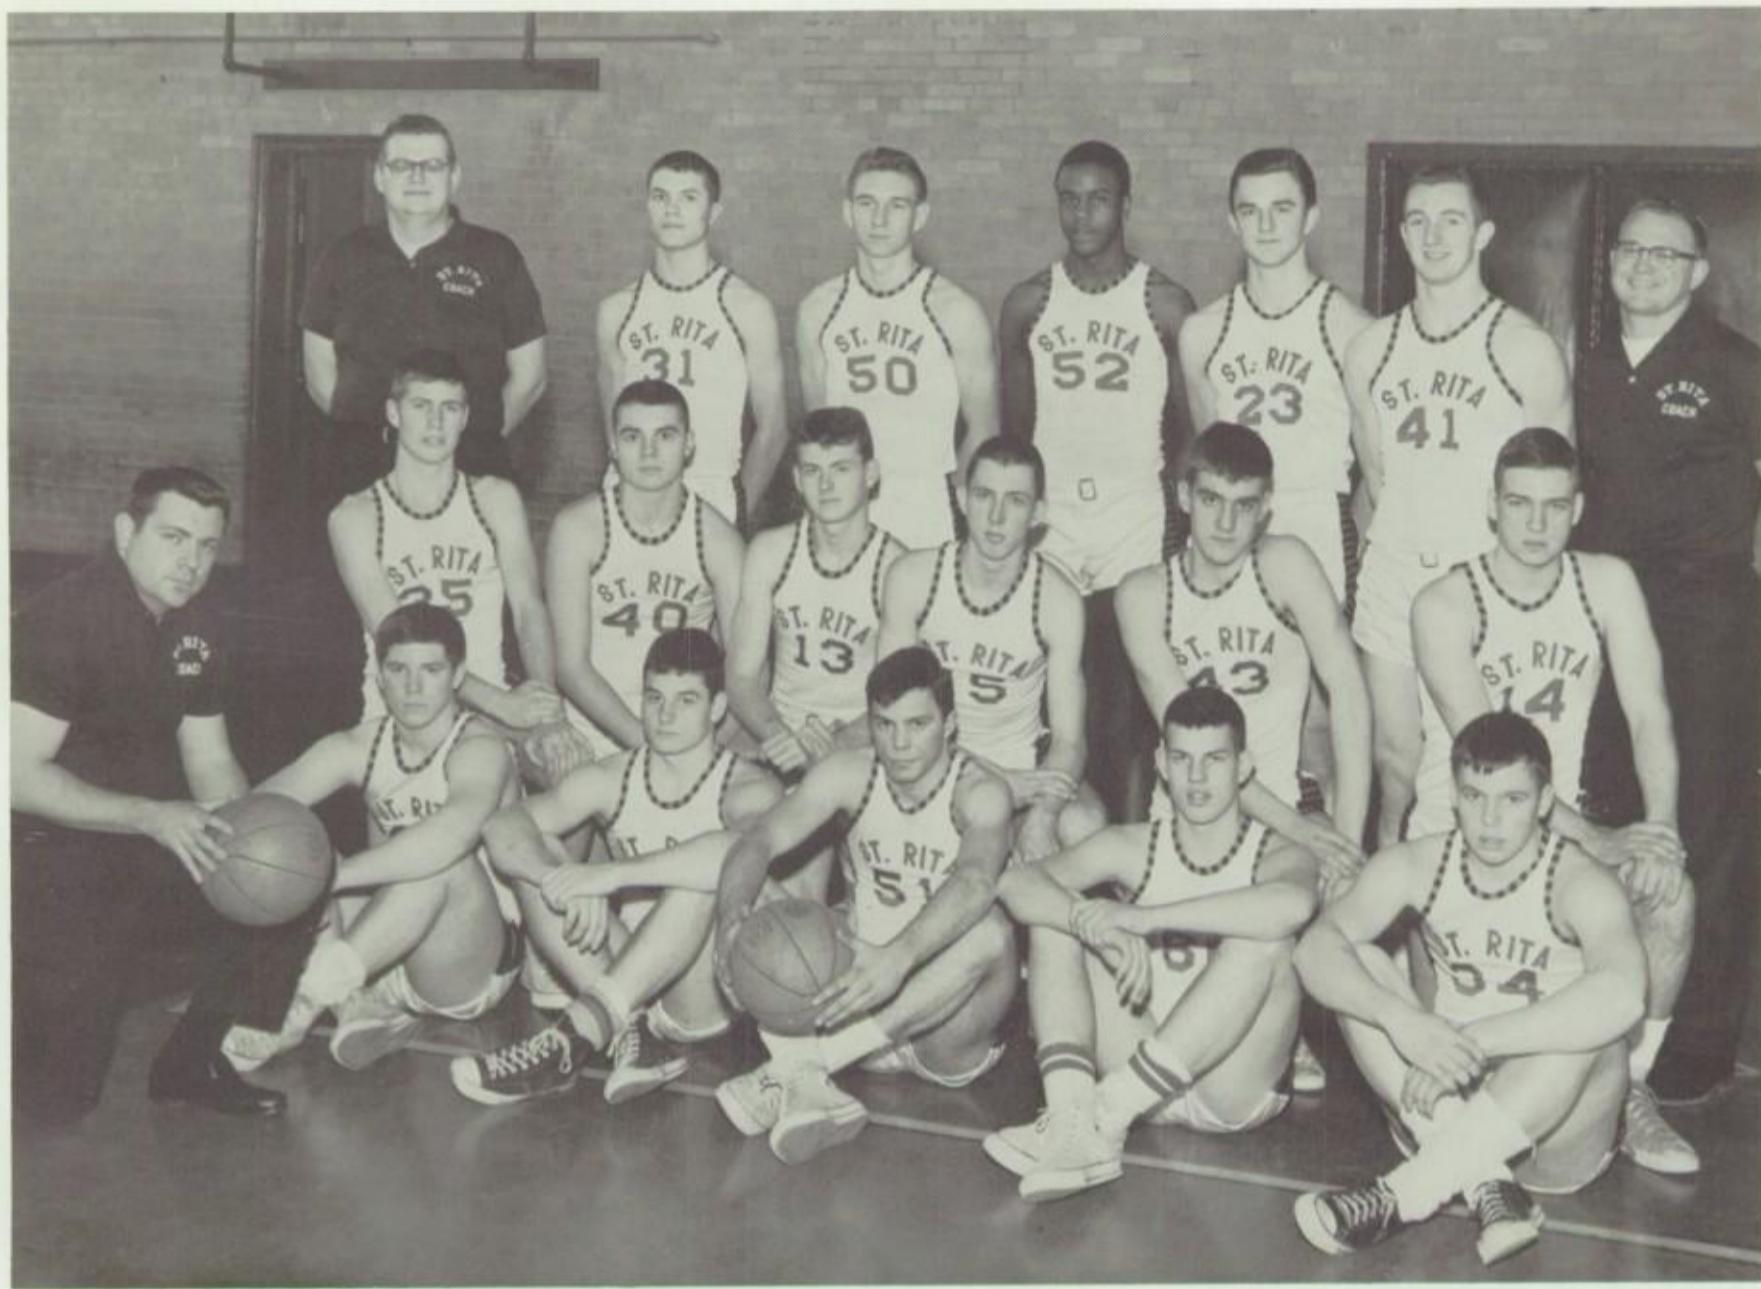

Rich Urbanski jumps and shoots over the heads of Mount Carmel opponents. The Mustangs lost 58-55.

Rough Season Sees Lights Finish Sixth Place

"Get that ball," yells Cal Williams, as Co-captain Kevin Downs struggles with a couple of Vikings for a loose ball.

An overall record of eight wins and fourteen losses was compiled by St. Rita's Lightweights. This poor record was contributed mainly to the lack of juniors and seniors which resulted in the team having very little experience. Often three or four sophomores were on the floor at one time, the reason being that at least ten boys were ineligible because of Catholic League height regulations.

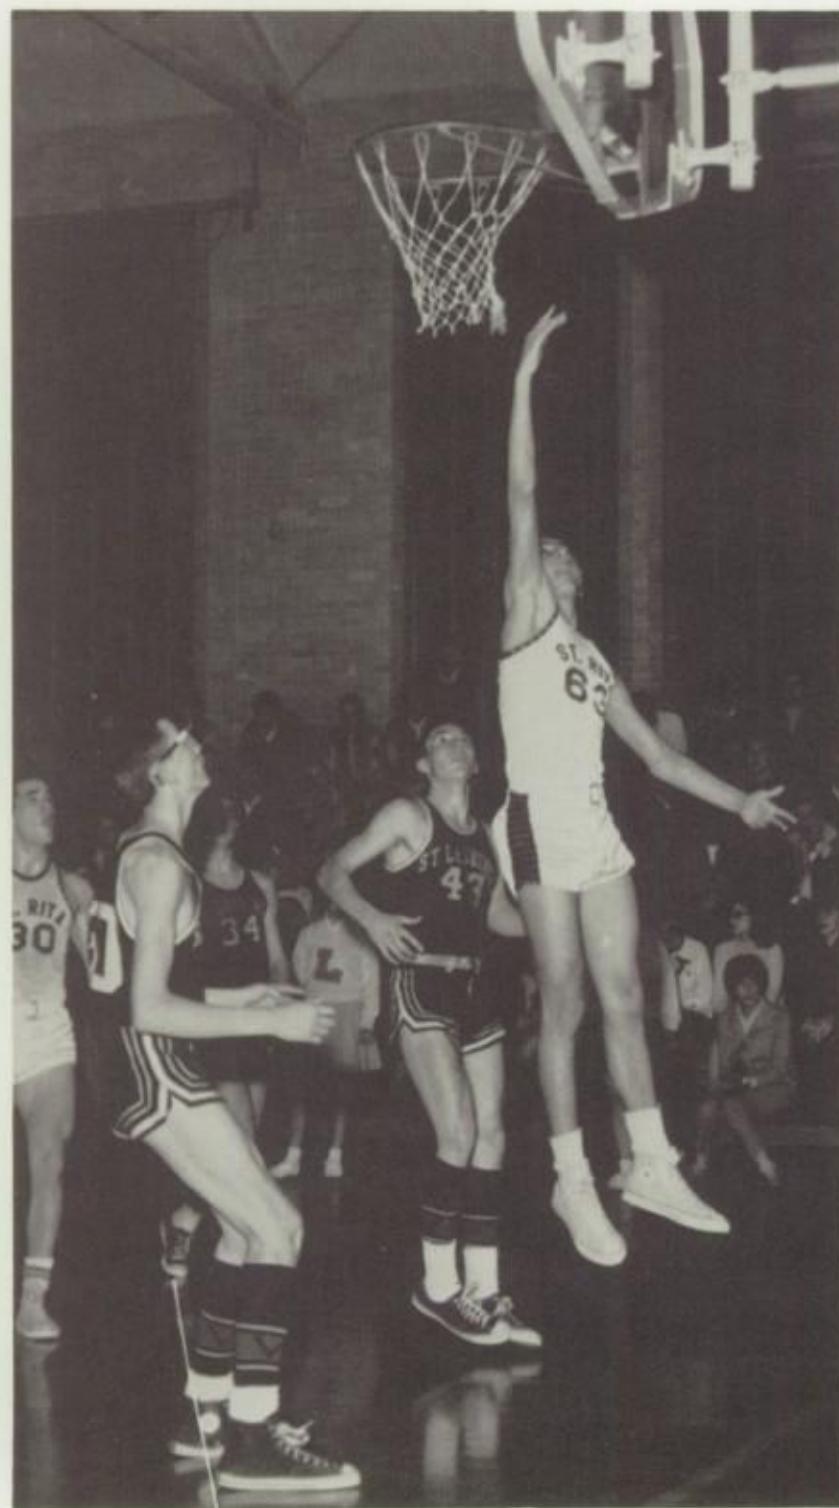

The Lights performed well against many North Section teams. They beat the Fenwick Friars twice and also St. Philip's, who has been undefeated since then. But it was a different story with the South Section teams. The Mustangs ended the league season with a record of two wins and ten losses. Most of the teams were just too strong for St. Rita.

Tom Howard led the individual scoring with his 178 points. Cal Williams was second with 139 points. Tom Howard also had the best free throw percentage with 77%. Kevin Downs was runner up with 56%. Ron Biamonte won the rebound trophy by totaling 143 rebounds.

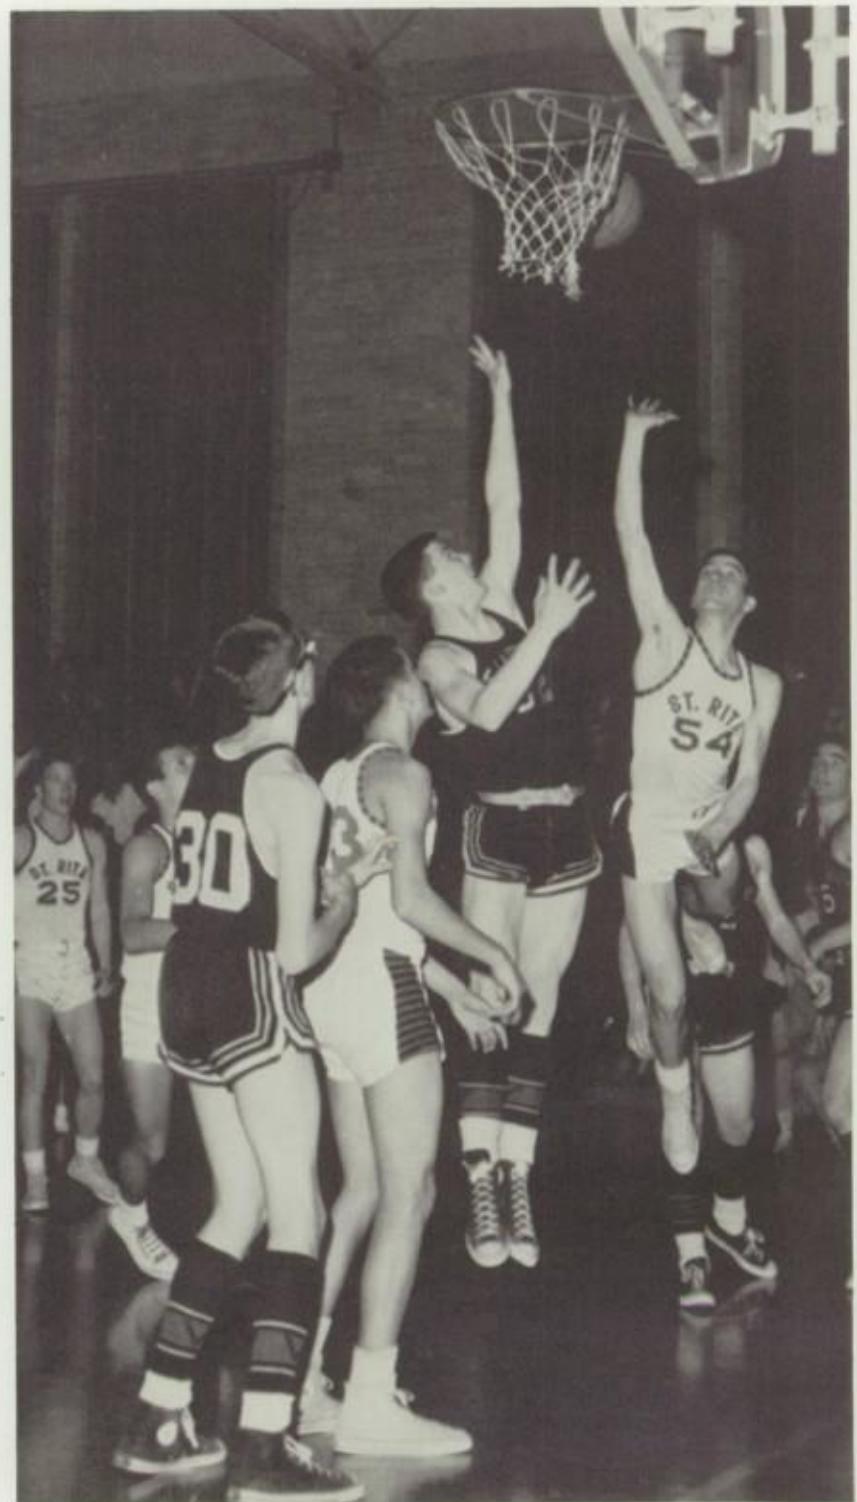

Kevin Downs and Tom Howard were honored by being chosen to play on the South Section All-Star Team. Mr. Kopecky was also honored by being named coach of this team.

The Lights were under the direction of Head Coach Bob Kopecky and Assistant Coaches Ray Konrath and Ron Nowak and also under the leadership of Co-captains Kevin Downs and Tom Howard.

Flys Take Second Place

A disappointing practice season record of only one win and four losses made the upcoming league battles look quite dismal. However, in keeping with typical St. Rita spirit the players refused to give up, and by the end of the season the Flys had been victorious in eight of their 12 league games. Al Szram led the team in both scoring, with 132 points, and in rebounding. Jim Brasher finished a close second in the scoring category with 130 points while second honors in rebounding went to Jeff Mader. Don Maher and Jim Brasher shared the free-throw crown each having made good 48% of their charity tosses. Coach Ray Konrath said that once the right combination of boys was found the Flys were tough to beat. Jim Brasher and Don Maher were cited as the best freshmen prospects.

Bantams Win 8 Games

Concluding the season with eight wins and nine losses, the Bantams tied Brother Rice for third place position in the Catholic league. High scorer on the team was John Thompson with 180 points, which averaged 12 points per game. Second and third in the line of scoring were Harvey Middleton with a 94-point total and Larry Wolfer with 93 points. The best free-throw average was tallied by Bob Sapp completing 77% of his charity tosses, followed closely by Larry Wolfer with a 70% average.

The prominent prospects of the team cited by their Coach were John Thompson for his shooting ability, Bob Sapp for his ball handling, and Larry Wolfer because of his height. The Bantams were under the direction of their new coach, Mr. Ron Nowak.

Netmen Finish Third Place in League Play

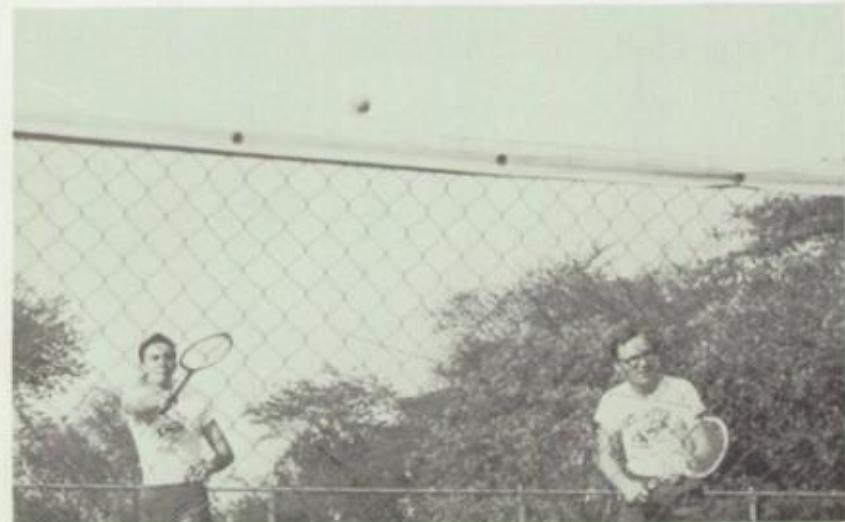

The St. Rita Tennis Team, moderated by Mr. Grahame Capp, O.S.A., placed third in the B division of the Catholic League. The A division consists of Brother Rice, Fenwick, and Loyola. In the B division are St. Laurence, Leo, St. Rita and Mendel. The B division plays six games during the fall season, while the A division plays eight. The two games scheduled with Mendel were rained out. Number One netman this year was Jim Klora, followed by Ken Markunas.

Mr. Capp has planned a few different activities for the team. The team competed in the Bro. Rice All-Star Tournamen-ment. Jim Qualizza and Carl Ekins represented St. Rita at the Freshman and Sophomore Tournament in October. Although on this young team there were no winners in the tournaments, Mr. Capp looks forward to a few trophies next year. Mr. Capp wants to send various players to take part in the tennis instruction courses at Beverly Country Club.

Although this year's Cross Country teams displayed strong competition, they recorded only four victories. The seniors, with a 1-7 record, finished last of six teams in the South Section Meet, while the Juniors, with a 3-5 record, placed third. John Flaherty and Bob Preucil each earned a Bronze medal, and Jim McGinnis won a Gold Medal for his first place, record breaking run of 2.1 miles in 11:29. With these and other experienced runners returning next season, Coach Ray Konrath predicts "a stronger team with more depth" for next season.

The Senior and Junior Varsities ended with a 3-4 and 1-6 record respectively. In the South Section Meet the Seniors placed sixth out of seven teams, and the Juniors fifth. The teams, however, did have their share of glory. Bill Mulvihill was awarded a gold medal for his first place finish for pole vaulting at the City Meet, while Rich Potempa and Jim McGinnis earned silver medals. Moderator Ray Konrath is depending on the teams' new members to back up its few experienced men.

Varsity Baseball Team Finishes 13-10'

The Varsity baseball team is looking forward to a season which hopefully will prove to be more successful than the '67 season. The varsity will welcome back left-hander Tom Wallace who is confident of a good season on the mound. Last year, however, Tom suffered an arm injury which hurt his performance. Also returning is another left-hander, Joe Gonski, who will pitch for the Mustangs. Coach Joe Porrevecchio said, "The major factor which will determine our success is pitching, you can't win if you don't have pitching." Other returning members of last year's squad are Jim Zak, Jim Finn, Rick Moone, Glenn Marek, Tom Gartland, and Dan Brasky who will provide bat strength and a strong defensive ball club. Sophomores Jeff Johnson and Bob Landi, both in their first year of varsity ball, will certainly be an asset to the team. The team as a whole, under the coaching of Mr. Joe Porrevecchio, is looking ahead to a much improved season. Fr. John Sattler, O.S.A., who came to St. Rita in 1967, is the assistant coach of the varsity.

Rain Hampers Frosh-Soph Baseball Season

Because of bad weather the Frosh-Soph was able to play only nine league games. Nevertheless, they showed fine ability offensively and defensively. The team lacked size, however it had good speed and agility. Gary Haraf displayed great speed and control on the mound, as Ed Sojka and Dave Dybas contributed bat strength. The infield was strong, committing only four errors. The coaching job for the second year is in the hands of Mr. Ado Rugai, who stated that "the 1968 Frosh-Soph looks better than ever." With this vote of confidence the Frosh-Soph is looking forward to one of its best seasons.

Traveling Teams Place Second in Competition

In the Catholic Interschool Bowling League, the Senior and Junior bowling teams took second place. Despite a poor start, the Senior Team won 30 of their 32 remaining matches, giving them second place. Consistent bowling by the Junior Team merited a second place tie with Mendel. Brother Rice took first place in both Senior and Junior divisions of the South Section league. Fr. Ralph Giovinetti, O.S.A., directs the traveling bowlers.

The Senior Team is composed of seniors and juniors, while the Junior Team is made up of the remaining classes. High series for the Senior Team was a 608 total by Paul Brown and a 578 by Dan Janosek. High game for the team in league play was Doug Daggett's 226. The Junior Team shared in the high scoring. High series of the team were Ed Wopinek's 564 and Fred Blanda's 563 total. “Competition” Key Word for Intramural Bowlers

Every Monday after a long day of school, students meet at Gage Park Bowling Lanes to decide the winners of the numerous awards and trophies offered. Becoming very popular, intramural bowling, under the direction of Fr. Ralph Giovinetti, O.S.A., offers fun and recreation to all participants. Three groups make up the League: Senior-Junior, Sophomore, and Freshmen. Each division has ten, ten, and twelve teams respectively.

Competing for top honors, high scoring has been prevalent. Tony Miranda's 647 series and Ed Wopinek's 612 were the League's best. High games of 264 and 259 by Tony Miranda and Paul Brown topped the League. Awards were presented at the annual May bowling banquet.

John Kowalski tries to keep his team in the running with a hard-earned strike.

Ed Szklarski demonstrates his great speed and smooth form in this perfect release.

Twisting his wrist, Tom O'Malley keeps his eyes well down the lane.

Chris Kowalski, attempting to strike, really puts effort behind his ball.

CLASSES

Co-operation takes on its most complex yet most important form in student association. Here, each individual discovers that co-operation is hardly a one-way situation because he is surrounded by many fellow students. He must learn not only to harmonize with his classmates but also to help them in their endeavors. Then he is prepared to share the benefits which the school offers. Through student co-operation, the school becomes a better place in which to live, learn, work, and socialize.

Through Co-operation, Freshmen Overcome Challenges

After eight years of grammar school life, the freshman finds himself in a totally different and unique surroundings. He is introduced to a greater scope of knowledge in subjects essential for a well-rounded education. Many extracurricular activities, which become part of a student's life, are offered to him.

The eager and energetic freshman is faced with the challenge of meeting new friends, learning new subjects, and participating in different activities. Only through co-operation with students, faculty, and counselors can he overcome this challenge and become a more well-rounded individual — a leader of the school. Co-operation is the basic element, the source of success. Although only a freshman, he becomes a "Rita Man," and must undertake the responsibility of a real man.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores Plan Activities at Class Meetings

One year older and with one full year of experience behind him, the sophomore now tries to assume his proper role in the school community. Realizing that the school is more than just an impersonal building, he finds that a certain amount of co-operation is needed to gain the full benefits of school life. With this as a guiding principle, the sophomore tries to achieve new harmony with faculty and fellow students that he never dreamed possible a year before. He casts a ballot for his favorite officer. He leads a cheer at a football game. He joins some of the many extra-curricular activities in the school. And he lets the spirit of co-operation be a guide to his life both inside and outside of school.

In Memoriam

Peter Vyto Petravicius, son of Victor and Marja Petravicius of 7241 South Claremont, was born on May 22, 1952, the youngest of three children. In 1966, he graduated from Nativity B.V.M. grammar school and went on to St. Rita High School. An average student who was fascinated by history, he befriended many students. His most distinguishing characteristic was his love of the outdoors. He loved the peace and quiet of the country. Camping and hiking were his favorite pastimes. Even though he was quiet, he exhibited a warm sense of generosity and helpfulness, and indeed possessed the qualities for becoming an understanding and well-rounded man. Peter lost his life in a railroad accident on February 6, 1967. May he enjoy eternal life.

Juniors Realize Responsibilities as Upperclassmen

Becoming a Junior means becoming an upperclassman, a step all students anxiously anticipate. This is the year of challenge, the year that will "make or break" the student. The Junior looks back over his first two years and realizes he has come a long way. He realizes too that co-operation has brought him this far — in his studies, in sports, and in daily living. Now more than ever he will need this co-operation for the new responsibilities of his third year.

These responsibilities are centered around support of school activities and preparation for college. For the first time since he has entered high school, the Junior realizes that as an upperclassman, it is his support, both individually and group, that produces successful school activities. However, his most important duty is studying to the best of his ability. He will reach full achievement only if he co-operates with his teachers, parents, and students.

Busy Junior Schedules Often Include Study, Hall Guard Duty

Taking advantage of the peaceful atmosphere found during periods in Egan Hall, Joseph Dudzik does part of his homework while he guards the corridor.

Michael Bogira admires his new school ring for which he anxiously waited. Near the end of the year the Juniors had the choice of three different rings. No junior is allowed to purchase a ring unless he has a satisfactory academic and conduct record.

Classroom Procedures, Work Challenge Juniors

Bob Viravec, Pat Sweeney, Rod Nendza, and Len Cosentino take advantage of the teacher's absence and check their grades in the teacher's grade book.

After a hard day at school, Robert Keane realizes his work is not finished. At home he tackles his physics assignment, which usually requires time and concentration. Many juniors like Bob find study is more necessary than in first two years.

SENIORS

Senior Efforts Help in Molding Future Leaders

Armed with three years of high school experience and a fierce resolve to push on to the demands and rewards of adulthood, the St. Rita senior works especially hard to overcome the many challenges of this, his last year. He is determined to make it the best year of his life thus far — academically, socially, and morally. He knows that the more fully he experiences these final nine months, the better prepared he will be for the uncertainties of the future. And so, as those before him, he takes the lead in the various fields of student life. In academics, in sports, in student government, clubs, and service organizations, the senior provides leadership, drive, and energy, all of which are vitally necessary to a full, well-rounded, and truly successful education. Through his co-operation with teachers, administration, and fellow Rita men, the senior also contributes toward making the school a better place for the other students, the underclassmen, who will be better prepared for the duties they, in turn, must assume as tomorrow's St. Rita seniors.

Aware that thoroughness is often the basis of success, Coach Bill Styczynski carefully reminds Kevin Downs, Phil Domalgalski, and Walt Slezak of their special jobs as tri-captains of the Mustangs.

Intramurals 1-2-3, Band 1-2-3, History Club 3.

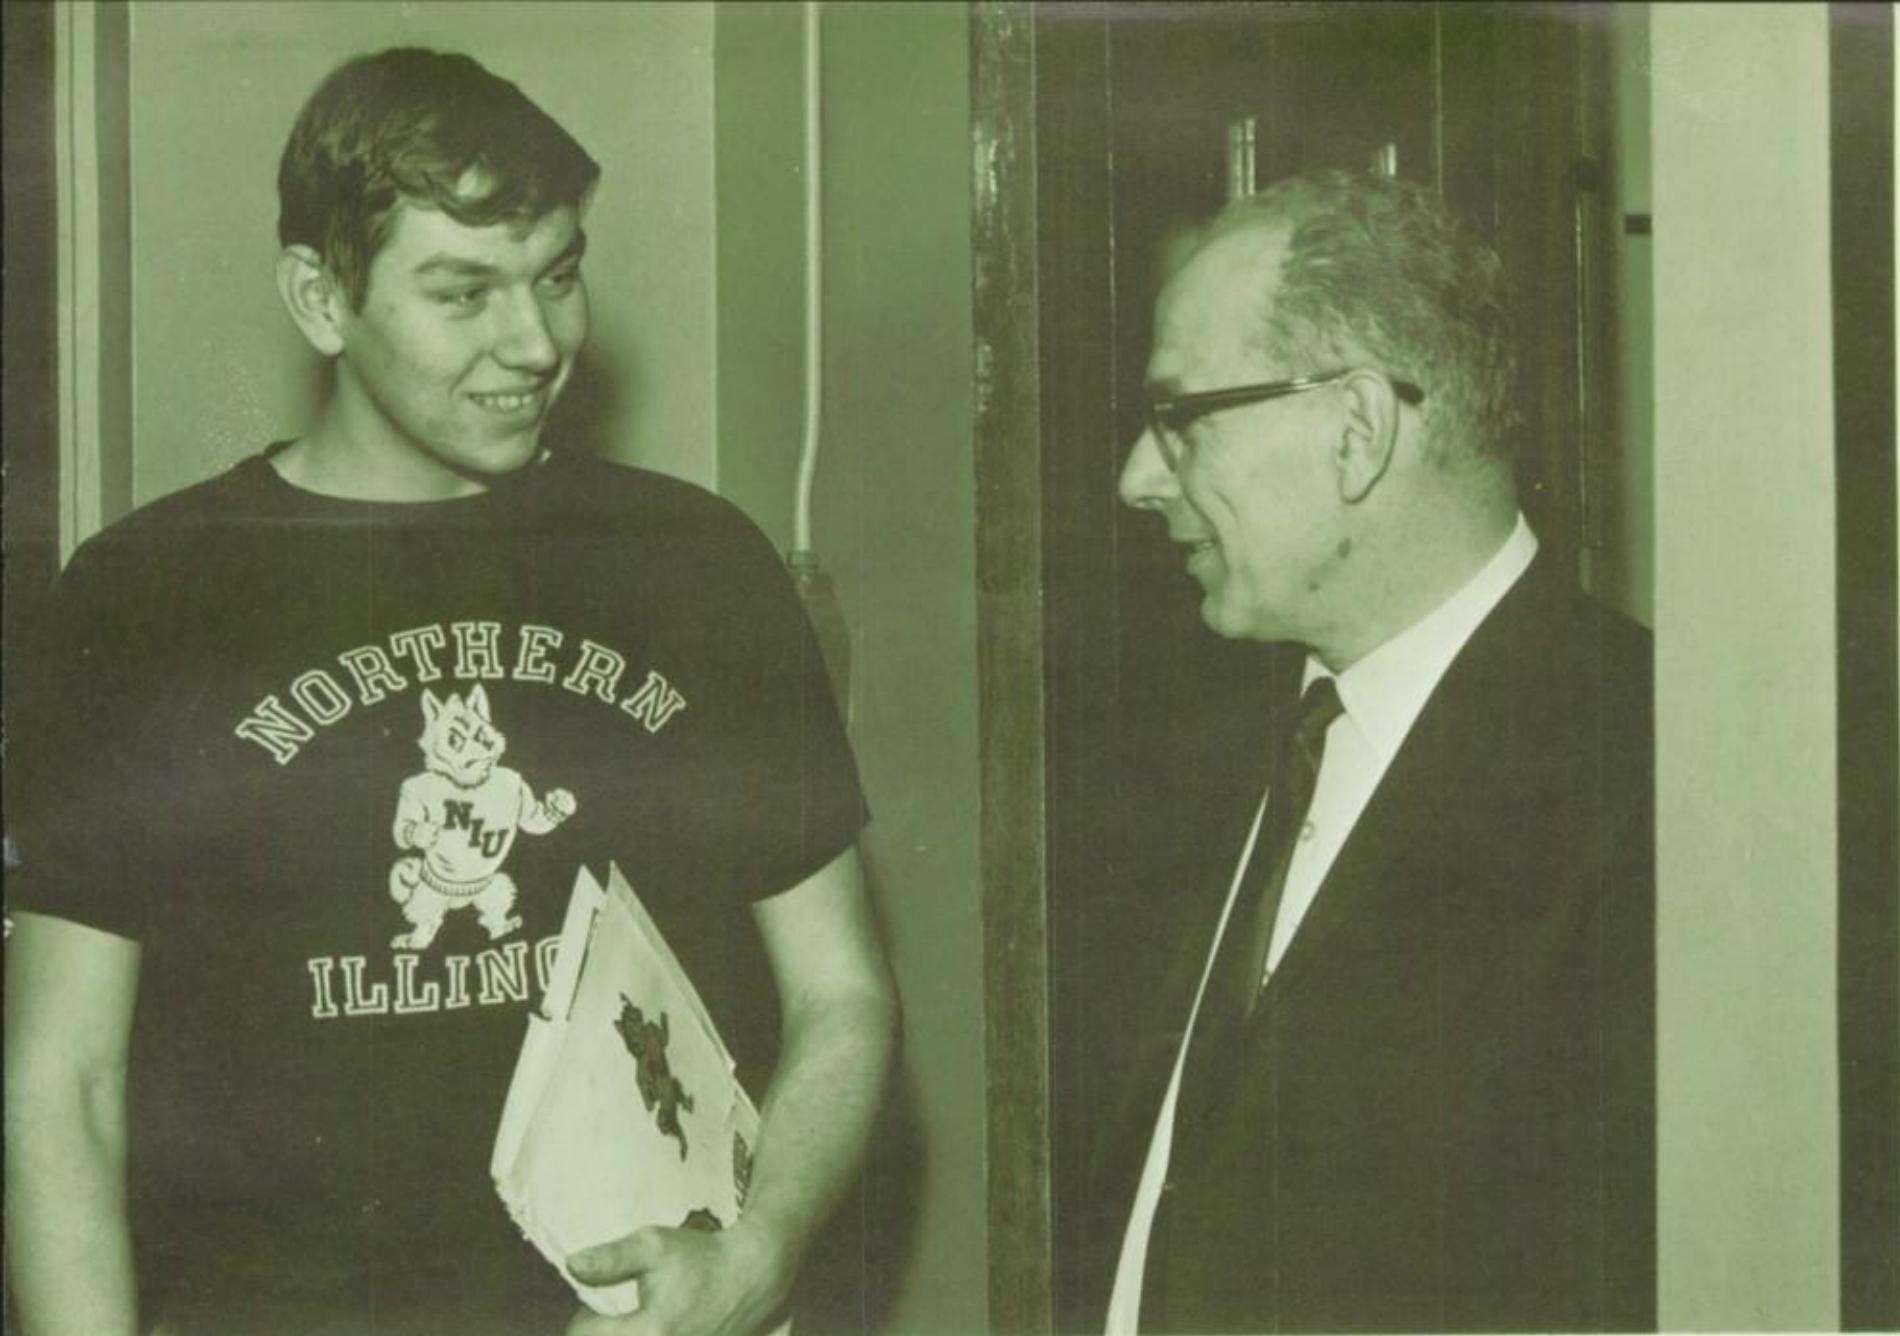

Mark Jarosz was born on February 23, 1950, the son of Joseph and Regina Jarosz. He attended Five Holy Martyrs' grammar school, and later was a member of the parish teen club. Sports took up much of his spare time, although he also liked to watch television and work on plastic model kits. At St. Rita, his favorite subject was science. He planned to go on to college and perhaps become a doctor.

When Mark died, on January 13, 1967, after a year-long illness, those who had lived and worked with him knew they had lost a true friend. May his soul live in the eternal warmth of God's love and mercy.

Acknowledgements

The theme of this year's Cascian is co-operation, and in reality, it was co-operation that produced this book. It was made possible by everyone at St. Rita's, students and faculty alike. I would especially like to thank the following people for their great efforts: Mr. and Mrs. Norb Dompke of the Root Photographers, for their excellent service to the school; Mr. Len Novak, for his splendid photography; Mr. Ralph Van Dyke of American Yearbook Company, for his many helpful suggestions in the book's design and layout; Fr. La Vern Flach, O.S.A., our adviser, for his constant aids and suggestions in the yearbook's organization, and finally to the editors and the entire yearbook staff, who worked together throughout the year to produce this '68 Cascian.
